Longest Congress Since '51 Winds Up Session

Lawmakers Face Heavy Business Load Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress closed out its long and—for the Democratic majority—often frustrating 1959 session early today.

Final adjournment came only five hours before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was due in Washington.

The House quit at 6:21 a. m. and the always more leisurely Senate hurried to quit three minutes later, ending the longest continuous session since the Korean War year of 1951.

President Notified

An hour before adjourning, Senate leaders woke President Eisenhower with a call to the White House, made at his request. They reported they were about ready to quit, and he replied he had nothing more to ask of them this year.

The weary legislators left behind a heavy load of business for their 1960 national election session, starting next Jan. 6.

The final adjournment just before Khrushchev's scheduled arrival pleased some of the members who sought to make sure there would be no occasion for an address by the Premier to the Congress.

Others, who wanted a face-to-face meeting with the Soviet leader, were satisfied with a session arranged by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at the Capitol Wednesday afternoon.

2 1/2-Hour Session

For the Senate, adjournment ended a 2 1/2-hour session starting at 9 a. m. Monday to clean up the final business of the first session of the 86th Congress.

Congress' final action was to appropriate $3,225,813,000 for foreign aid and about 400 million dollars for miscellaneous other purposes. The aid total 330 million less than Congress had authorized in an earlier bill, was a compromise of Senate and House figures.

Also approved, as part of the bill, was a two-year extension of the life of the Civil Rights Commission otherwise due to expire in November. It was given $500,000 in new funds to continue its work in the next year.

The session's end was delayed by a lengthy conference on the foreign aid bill onto which had been tacked a number of clean-up money matters and the Civil Rights Commission's extension—an action bitterly opposed by Southern senators.

Probably the most noteworthy acts of the 1959 session were to (Continued on Page 7, Col. 4)

Primary to Test DeSapio's Reign As Tammany Boss

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Tammany chief Carmine G. DeSapio, who has been accused of "bossism," staked his leadership on voter support today.

The challenge to DeSapio in New York City's Greenwich Village highlighted Primary Day, as scattered local contests for party nominations drew a handful of voters to polls throughout the state.

Three Contests

Three contests for nominations to the Legislature also were to be decided in the preliminaries to the November election.

The weather was cool with scattered showers. The poll hours were 3 p. m. to 10 p. m. in New York City and noon to 9 p. m. elsewhere in the state.

The outcome of the Democratic contest in DeSapio's district and similar contests in other New York districts could affect his standing as Democratic chairman of New York County and his voice in state politics. District leaders chosen today will meet soon to decide whether DeSapio should continue as county leader.

DeSapio's challenger for the post of leader of the First Assembly District South was Charles S. McGuinness, a lawyer.

Insurgents were competing in 20 of 33 Tammany districts.

Expected to Hold Post

A loss on his home ground would be a severe blow to DeSapio's considerable political prestige. But he was expected to hold his post.

Opposition to DeSapio was led by Herbert Lehman, former governor (Continued on Page 7, Col. 6)

Local Matter, Allen Rules

Murphy Appeal on Bus Issue Is Turned Down

The Kingston Board of Education (Consolidated) is "complying with the requirements of the statute" in its present school bus transportation at lesser distances," says Commissioner of Education James E. Allen Jr., in a decision handed down Monday.

Commissioner Allen denies the appeal of Rogers Murphy from the action of the Kingston Board of Education of the enlarged City School District in relation to transportation of elementary pupils residing less than a mile from the school and secondary school students residing less than two miles from school.

Oral notice of denial of the appeal was received late Monday from the State Education Department and today Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, received a copy of Commissioner Allen's decision.

No Comment, Murphy

Rogers Murphy, who represented the Kingston Rural Area School Committee, as petitioner, said he had not seen the decision and had no comment to make at this time. Arthur R. Ewig appeared for the petitioner and Andrew J. Cook Jr., of Cook and Cook, appeared for the Board of Education, respondent.

At a meeting of the town board of the Town of Exopus last week Justice of the Peace Alan Dargie offered a resolution, seconded by Councilman E. Stirling Potter, requesting the State Education Commissioner to give consideration to providing transportation to children from the Town of Exopus who are now required to travel over hazardous highways. This matter had been called to the attention of the state department by Supervisor Roger W. Mahie.

Up to Locality

At the Legal Department of the State Education Department today it was stated that this resolution had been received and had been "given consideration" in reviewing the transportation matter. All of the matters called to the attention of the State Education Department had been reviewed in considering the local bus problem, a member of the legal department said.

"It is a local determination so far as the distance between the two and three miles rule is concerned," a spokesman in the legal department said in pointing out that the local board had already "liberalized" the two and three mile rule of the department.

His Children Have Rides

In a lengthy decision Commissioner Allen states "this appeal is not brought by an aggrieved party." The children of the petitioner are being afforded transportation.

Probable Poughkeepsie Fire That Drove 20 From Homes

Poughkeepsie firemen late Monday battled a two-alarm fire which caused heavy damage to three homes at 34, 36 and 38 South Bridge Street, and threatened several other residences in the downtown block.

The origin of the costly blaze was not determined and fire officials called upon city detectives to conduct an investigation. The fire occurred in the area where several fires of suspicious origin have occurred in the last few months.

According to Fire Chief Irving Merrick, yesterday's fire started on or near the rear porch of the frame house at 34 South Bridge Street, and when firemen arrived at the scene they discovered fire sweeping through the duplex house at 34-36 South Bridge Street.

The first alarm at 4:31 p. m. summoned Engines 1, 3 and 6 and Truck 1 to the scene. The second alarm at 4:53 p. m. was answered by Engine companies 5 and 7 and Truck 2. Fire Chief Merrick and Captain John Van Nostrand were in command of firemen who were at the scene more than two hours.

Twenty persons were evacuated from the burning buildings and as a safety precaution firemen and police directed neighbors to leave their homes until the fire was brought under control.

Three firemen were injured and several were effected by the dense smoke. Lieutenant Edward Chocianowski suffered an injury of his right foot when he stepped on a nail. He was treated at the scene by Fire Physician Dr. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Ike, Aides Ready to Answer Red Selling Campaign

Khrushchev's Aim In Tour of U. S.

By JOHN N. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and the State Department braced themselves today for a propaganda battle royal during Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

Probably nothing quite like it has ever been seen before, unless Vice President Richard M. Nixon's debate with Khrushchev in Moscow last July can be considered a precedent.

Contrary to U. S. Aims

Khrushchev is expected to wage a selling campaign from Washington to the West Coast and back again in behalf of communism and Soviet policies for dealing with world problems.

Most or all of what he says, U. S. officials believe, will be contrary to the aims and interests of the United States and its allies in world affairs. The President has no intention of letting him have the field to himself.

Responsibility for meeting the challenge has been delegated principally to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. representative at the United Nations and veteran of many clashes with the spokesmen of the Soviet Union and other Communist nations.

In addition, any assertions by Khrushchev that merit Eisenhower's personal attention and a White House statement to set the record straight will get such treatment.

No Public Discussions

And on Thursday morning, a few hours after Khrushchev leaves Washington for New York, Eisenhower will hold a news conference at which he can re-emphasize the U. S. position.

But Eisenhower has ruled out any public discussions between himself and his Soviet guest. He decided weeks ago that their talks should be private, forthright discussions of real policy differences and be devoid of propaganda coloration so far as possible.

Lodge and a staff of expert aides will accompany Khrushchev on his trip over the country as well as take part in the Washington activities beginning today. They are not going out looking for a fight. Their strategy is defensive. But the President wants to be ready to counter any line Khrushchev takes which may threaten American interests.

Seven Perish In Houston School Blast

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An explosion at Poe Elementary School in southwest Houston killed seven persons today. One policeman at the scene said at least seven were dead, including children and adults.

A resident of the area said legs and arms were torn from several children and adults.

Police said the blast shook a large residential area. Early reports indicated the explosion was in the school kitchen.

Woman Still Faces Charge

Still facing the charge, however, is Vera Watson, 52, whose address today was given as 30 Hamilton Place, New York, instead of 50 Meadow Street, this city, as was given yesterday. Her case was put over to Friday, to permit her time to obtain counsel.

Admits Not Knowing Him

Vera Watson, authorities said, admitted that she had not known McCullough prior to their having met and talked at the bus terminal. McCullough, it was noted, has been making the bus trip to Albany about every week to visit his family.

Albany police were alerted after Detective Charles McCullough had investigated the reported theft, and the two were returned to Kingston by Detective McCullough and Officer George Barringer. They had made the trip by Greyhound instead of Trailways bus.

Court Expresses Regret

Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig said the court also regretted circumstances, which led to the arrest of McCullough, and Attorney Gold noted that police action was not at fault because of conditions involved.

McCullough was represented by Attorney Robert M. Ortale, who had asked for the dismissal and exoneration of bail.

Premier Will Speak Friday

Hint Soviet Surprise As UN Begins Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly opens its 14th session today amid speculation that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is preparing a dramatic surprise as part of his speech here Friday.

Diplomats familiar with Soviet thinking expressed doubt that Khrushchev would pass up an opportunity such as this without a new proposal which would grab worldwide headlines.

Could Be Turning Point

Some such move was hinted at by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov, who said on his arrival in New York that this Assembly might well be a turning point. Kuznetsov will head the Soviet delegation after the departure of Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Delegates recalled that President Eisenhower, in an address before the Assembly in 1953, caused a world sensation by proposing an international atom-for-peace agency. This has since then become a reality.

There was no indication as to what sort of proposal Khrushchev might make. The general expectation, however, was that he would make a bid for international cooperation on space exploration or offer a new approach to the disarmament problem.

The opening of the 82-nation Assembly was completely overshadowed by the Khrushchev visit to the United States.

Today's session was limited to the election of officers and the organization of the powerful steering committee which will get down to business Wednesday. Its first business will be whether to place on the agenda such controversial issues as the seating of Red China and the French-Algerian issue. The Assembly will deal with about 70 items.

The veteran Peruvian diplomat, Victor Andres Belaunde, was slated to be elected president of the Assembly without opposition.

Ellenville Woman Stickup Victim, $3,000 Haul Made

Search was underway today for a bold, youthful robber who entered the home of Abraham and Martha Buchwalter, 14 Roslyn Street, Ellenville, on a ruse and after trussing up Mrs. Buchwalter made off with jewelry, cash and furs valued at approximately $3,000, according to Police Chief Frank Gropp.

The daring robbery occurred between 8:30 and 9 a. m. Monday, the chief said. Mrs. Buchwalter was at home with her baby at the time. Her husband, who is maître d'hotel at the Nevele Country Club south of Ellenville on Route 209, was at work, and their oldest child had gone to school when a man appeared at the side door of the Buchwalter home.

Carried Box

Chief Gropp told The Freeman that Mrs. Buchwalter answered the side doorbell. As she looked outside she saw a man she later described as about 27 or 28 years of age, five feet, seven or eight inches tall and wearing a light blue jacket and no hat.

Mrs. Buchwalter told authorities later, the man was carrying a cardboard box and before she opened the door the man said he had some shirts her husband had ordered.

Threatened With Knife

Suspecting nothing at the time, Mrs. Buchwalter opened the door and the man stepped (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Committee and School Superintendent Agree to Withhold Referendum Outline

No information was forthcoming from the committee which will draft a referendum on the school bus transportation proposition, following the first meeting of that committee last evening at the high school.

Both Rogers Murphy, representative of the Rural School Transportation Committee which is composed of parents of the area, and Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of schools, said the committee members had unanimously agreed at the meeting last evening to make no announcements to the press "at this time."

At a meeting of the board of education of the Kingston School District (Consolidated), held last Thursday evening, a committee was named to "draft a referendum" on school bus transportation.

On the committee are three members of the board of education, David Kline, County Judge Louis G. Bruhn and Benson A. Krom; Keron O'Neil, president of the Kingston Parent-Teacher Council; Christus J. Larios, chairman of the Committee of 50 which was an advisory group during the transition of consolidation; Donald M. Hastings, Third Ward alderman and Garvin Fisher, local patrolman who represent the City of Kingston; Rogers Murphy, chairman of the Rural Parents Committee, and a second person to be named by Mr. Murphy as a committee representative.

Asked as to what action was taken at the meeting last evening, Murphy said, "It was unanimously agreed by all present at the meeting not to give out any information at this time." He said the matter could not be discussed at this time with the press.

Dr. Soper also said the committee had agreed not to disclose any information as to committee action at this time.

The proposal to submit the school bus transportation to a referendum came after the board declined to change its regulation in regard to transporting elementary students who reside less than a mile from school and secondary students who reside less than two miles from school, although they may be required to travel over so called "dangerous" areas.

He Boasts Of Soviet Moon Trip

Struggle Begins For Support of World at Field

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev began his historic American visit today with an appeal for "good neighborly" relations between Communist and capitalist states and a sharp reminder that the Soviet Union had beaten the United States in the race to the moon.

People Rule Here: Ike

President Eisenhower, welcoming Khrushchev, told the chubby Communist leader the United States could never launch an aggressive war because the American people rule the country and are devoted to peace.

In the President's welcoming speech was the clear implication that Russia has no such built-in restraints against aggression.

The Soviet Premier arrived by plane at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington after a 12-hour flight from Moscow. Headwinds delayed the big Russian turbo-prop plane for a time but the arrival in sunny, cool weather was almost on time.

Crowd Curious, Quiet

While a curious but quiet crowd looked on at the airfield, the serious-faced Soviet leader heard the President express the hopes of the United States for a "just, universal and enduring peace."

The two men thus began in the very first moments of their exchange of visits a struggle for the support of world public opinion.

Khrushchev's reference to his nation's success in putting a capsule on the moon, with the hammer and sickle emblem, was a frank boast of Soviet prowess in science. Almost in so many words he told the President that American science would get to the moon sooner or later, too.

Eisenhower and high-ranking U. S. leaders were on hand for the first visit in history to this country by the head of a Soviet government.

Also waiting at Andrews Air Force Base for the return Soviet ruler was the tightest security network of all time for a visiting dignitary.

In Readiness for Hours

Early in the day, more than 4,000 security guards lined the 15-mile route into Washington from the air force base.

Special armed guards policed the airport.

$20,000 Onteora Tax Checks Are Missing in N. Y. C.

A batch of school tax payment checks in the total amount of approximately $20,000 and a few money orders paid by residents in the Onteora Central School District, are missing from the automobile owned by the school tax collector, Mrs. Anita Shulman, it was learned today.

William Deming, supervising principal of the Onteora district, said that the disappearance of the checks was made known at a meeting Monday night.

According to reports, Mrs. Shulman went to New York City last week and parked her car on a street. While visiting with her sister, someone smashed a window of the car and ransacked the vehicle.

Payment Stopped

It was reported that when Mrs. Shulman returned to her car she discovered the glass broken. Missing from the automobile was the batch of school tax payment checks, a few money orders and some personal articles. No money was missing.

Deming explained that payment had been stopped on all checks, receipt of which had been recorded by Mrs. Shulman. He emphasized there will be no financial loss to the district. It also was reported the checks are not negotiable and payment has been stopped.

Ragweed Pollen Reaches Peak With 48 Count

The ragweed pollen survey for the first nine days in September were highly erratic with counts in the Zena-Woodstock-Saugerties area running as high as 48 on Sept. 3 and down to 8 on Sept. 8.

Counts at Pine Hill station ranged from a low of 2 to a high of 22 on Sept. 6.

The final count of this week's report last Wednesday was 38 at the Zena station and 2 at the Pine Hill station.

The Board of Managers of Kingston Laboratory released the figures today. The two pollen stations are supervised by Ulster County Health Department.

The counts indicated the area has reached the peak of the hay fever season.

A daily count of 25 or greater is known as a "hay fever day," and would cause discomfort to those sensitive to the ragweed pollen.

Claim Full Crew Law Wastes 15 Million

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — In order to meet requirements of the full-crew law, railroads waste 15 million dollars a year, money that could be spent on improving service, the State Assn. of Railroads contends.

The law, enacted in 1913, specifies the number of crewmen assigned to various trains.

The association said Monday that although the law was enacted in the days of steam engines, it still required firemen and extra brakemen to be used even though the engines now were diesels.

There is nothing now for the extra men to do, the association said.

"Why should railroads be singled out and told by legislative fiat how many people they should employ on a given job?" complained William White, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad.

The State Public Service Commission is studying operation of the law with an eye toward possible amendment or repeal.

The 1959 Legislature ordered the study as part of a program of relief for the railroads, which have been reporting substantial deficits on passenger operations.

Public hearings begin Oct. 5.

The association also declared Monday that accident records showed that the number of crew members on a train had no relationship to safety.

The association said its figures were based on operational data of the Baltimore and Ohio, Boston and Maine, Delaware and Hudson, Erie, Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley, Long Island, New York Central, New Haven, Nickel Plate and Pennsylvania railroads.

Former Resident Receives Acclaim For Acting Roles

John Cunningham, son of Mrs. Raymond Cunningham and the late Mr. Cunningham of 88 Huguenot Street, has been heralded as one of the most outstanding young actors of today. He has acted in 15 plays in two years at the Adams Memorial Theatre of Williams College.

Executive Director, Nikos Psacharopoulos, says of him, "It's been a pleasure working with Mr. Cunningham. He never gave me trouble, always had his lines ready, on time, and I could depend on a top-notch performance regardless of the role involved. Some actors have a tendency to relax and slide through a minor role. But the few times I gave John a secondary role — to rest him up between major roles — he played with everything he had."

Cunningham, now 27, received many compliments this past season. The role he most enjoyed, was in "Look Back in Anger," where he had the lead of Jimmy Porter. Various reviews had this to say about his performance: "Mr. Cunningham is in all respects, equal to the difficult role . . . called upon to range through displays of emotion from violence to tenderness. Mr. Cunningham succeeds superbly on each level and makes transitions — a good many of them having the suddenness of an explosion — with complete authenticity . . . Mr. Cunningham is just magnificent."

In the role of Henry Higgins in "Pygmalion," Cunningham "played it with conviction and understanding." Among other roles he played were Lindsay Woolsey in "Auntie Mame," Sir Francis Chesney in "Charley's Aunt," Mike Haney, the friend in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With," Ivan in "Brothers Karamazov," and Mrs. Webb in "Our Town," opposite Thornton Wilder, the author.

Before receiving his MFA degree in directing from the Yale School of Drama in June, Cunningham spent a season at the Bucks County Playhouse and toured Europe in productions of "My Three Angels," "The Caine Mutiny" and "The Rainmaker" with a different theatre arrangement for each night.

He also appeared at the Hatfield Theatre in Falmouth, and did a film "The Receiving Story" for General Electric.

Cunningham is a graduate of New Paltz Central School and Dartmouth College. He is married to the former Carolyn Cotton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Cotton of Church Street, New York City.

First Half Higher

Total arrests for January-July 1959 were 47 per cent higher than the first seven months of 1958, reflecting a general increase in New York City arrests.

July arrests of youths 16-20 years of age were 4.5 per cent below the previous month, and 2.1 per cent above July 1958; adult arrests for July were above June but below the same month a year ago. The July decline in youth arrests was limited to New York City. Both youth and adult arrests for the first seven months of 1959 were above January-July 1958, with the increase concentrated in New York City.

Youth arrests totaled 1,094 during July and comprised 26.1 per cent of all arrests that month.

During the first seven months of 1959, nearly all crime categories contributed to the upward trend over January-July 1958. The largest numerical increases occurred in arrests for grand larceny, robbery and narcotic drugs. Arrests for auto theft showed the largest increase among youths under 21, while adult arrests recorded the greatest advances in other forms of grand larceny and robbery. Both age groups were affected by the rise in arrests for narcotic drug violations.

Data on major crimes are compiled from individual fingerprint records submitted by law to the Department on persons arrested and charged with either a felony or one of the offenses specified in Section 552 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Dispositions

The department received and processed 2,108 reports in July on the court disposition of arrests for major crimes. Of these cases, 65.3 per cent were convicted on either the original charge or a reduced charge and 34.7 per cent were not convicted. The July conviction rate was higher than the cumulative rate for January-July 1959, reflecting a larger proportion of New York City commitments to institutions and a higher proportion of fines and suspended sentences in Upstate areas.

Letter Explains Termination of Maxon's Services

Termination of services of Ambrose Maxon at the Hurley School has been explained in a letter written to Trustee Benson Krom by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Earl F. Soper. At the meeting of the board last Thursday Trustee Krom filed a petition signed by a number of residents of Hurley in behalf of Mr. Maxon, one of the school janitors.

Last June 29, Maxon was sent a letter from the board of education notifying him of the termination of his services as of September 1, in compliance with the regulation which requires school employees to discontinue work for the Kingston schools at age 70. In that letter Maxon was thanked for his services to the children and teachers of the Hurley school.

"As you know, the petition has been placed on file and no action was taken by the Board of Education," Superintendent Soper wrote Trustee Krom. "However, a word of explanation to Mr. Maxon might very well be in order," Dr. Soper notes. "Incidentally Mr. Maxon is 79 years of age having been born on October 25, 1880, according to our records," the communication concludes.

Ellenville Local Delegates To Attend Izaak Walton Conclave

The Ellenville Chapter is one of many chapters in the state which will be represented at the 33rd annual convention of the New York State Division of the Izaak Walton League of America at Monticello Sept. 24, 25 and 26.

Arthur Chipp, president of the Ellenville Chapter, announced today that the convention will open at 9 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 24, with various committee meetings.

After registration and roll call on Friday the convention will be officially opened with an address of welcome by Luis deHoyos, mayor of Monticello. The main business of the annual meeting will take place and will be climaxed with an address by Harold Wilm, Commissioner of Conservation of the State of New York at the annual banquet to be held that evening at the Paddock Supper Club, Monticello.

Chipp said that the convention will close Saturday with the hearing of committee reports and the election and installation of officers for 1959-1960 term.

Mrs. Roger McCane of Schenectady is the present president. Chapter President Chipp announced that the eight official delegates to the convention will be announced at the regular dinner meeting of the Ellenville Chapter at the Wawarsing Sportsmens clubhouse Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 6:30 p. m. This will be the last meeting of the regular 1959-1960 season.

Bus Changes to Take Place Monday, Sept. 21

Several changes in bus runs of the Kingston City Transportation Corp., become effective Monday, Sept. 21, it was announced today.

Starting that date on the Washington-Foxhall line, service will be discontinued Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 6 p. m. on Cedar Street. Present time will be discontinued at 12:25 p. m. on Cedar Street. Holiday service will be discontinued. The 9:45 p. m., Friday runs continue.

Service on the Hasbrouck Avenue line will be discontinued Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 6:10 p. m. from Wall and North Front Streets, and from the same point Saturday at 6 p. m. Present runs there on above days is to 10 p. m.

First Half Higher

Total arrests for January-July 1959 were 47 per cent higher than the first seven months of 1958, reflecting a general increase in New York City arrests.

July arrests of youths 16-20 years of age were 4.5 per cent below the previous month, and 2.1 per cent above July 1958; adult arrests for July were above June but below the same month a year ago. The July decline in youth arrests was limited to New York City. Both youth and adult arrests for the first seven months of 1959 were above January-July 1958, with the increase concentrated in New York City.

Youth arrests totaled 1,094 during July and comprised 26.1 per cent of all arrests that month.

During the first seven months of 1959, nearly all crime categories contributed to the upward trend over January-July 1958. The largest numerical increases occurred in arrests for grand larceny, robbery and narcotic drugs. Arrests for auto theft showed the largest increase among youths under 21, while adult arrests recorded the greatest advances in other forms of grand larceny and robbery. Both age groups were affected by the rise in arrests for narcotic drug violations.

Data on major crimes are compiled from individual fingerprint records submitted by law to the Department on persons arrested and charged with either a felony or one of the offenses specified in Section 552 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

Dispositions

The department received and processed 2,108 reports in July on the court disposition of arrests for major crimes. Of these cases, 65.3 per cent were convicted on either the original charge or a reduced charge and 34.7 per cent were not convicted. The July conviction rate was higher than the cumulative rate for January-July 1959, reflecting a larger proportion of New York City commitments to institutions and a higher proportion of fines and suspended sentences in Upstate areas.

Letter Explains Termination of Maxon's Services

Termination of services of Ambrose Maxon at the Hurley School has been explained in a letter written to Trustee Benson Krom by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Earl F. Soper. At the meeting of the board last Thursday Trustee Krom filed a petition signed by a number of residents of Hurley in behalf of Mr. Maxon, one of the school janitors.

Last June 29, Maxon was sent a letter from the board of education notifying him of the termination of his services as of September 1, in compliance with the regulation which requires school employees to discontinue work for the Kingston schools at age 70. In that letter Maxon was thanked for his services to the children and teachers of the Hurley school.

"As you know, the petition has been placed on file and no action was taken by the Board of Education," Superintendent Soper wrote Trustee Krom. "However, a word of explanation to Mr. Maxon might very well be in order," Dr. Soper notes. "Incidentally Mr. Maxon is 79 years of age having been born on October 25, 1880, according to our records," the communication concludes.

4,193 Arrested During July 1959 For Major Crimes

ALBANY — Commissioner of Correction Paul D. McGinnis announced today that 4,193 persons were arrested for major crimes in New York State during July 1959.

This volume was 1.6 per cent above June 1959, but was 2.6 below July 1958. The increase over June was concentrated in Upstate areas, with New York City registering a slight decline. The July drop in New York City arrests was responsible for a decrease in the state-wide total as compared with July 1958.

WHERE SOVIET SAID ROCKET HIT MOON — Russian authorities, in advance of Soviet Union's announcement that it had landed a rocket on the moon, said rocket would come down about a quarter of the way from the center of moon's disc to its outer edge at a point near the Sea of Tranquility, the Sea of Serenity and the Sea of Vapors. Three Youths Quizzed In Couple's Abduction

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Three 19-year-old youths, captured by a posse of more than 200 officers, were being questioned here today about the abduction and robbery of a Mansfield couple.

Police said the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Porch, were released unharmed after the trio drove them to a spot eight miles from town, let them out on a highway and sped off in the Porch automobile.

Son Sleeps Through

The three were apprehended Monday afternoon, within 14 hours after they forced their way into the Porch home and ate the couple's food.

Upstairs, in a bedroom, 16-year-old David Porch slept through it all, and was not aware of his parents' predicament until they got back home.

Captured about 50 miles north-east of here, near Litchfield in Medina County, were Lodell Thweatt of Los Angeles, Calif., and Shelby, Ohio; Lawrence Edgar Parkhurst of Oswego, N. Y., and Jessie Elkins of Terre Haute, Ind.

The latter two told officers they were AWOL from Cannon Air Force Base, N. M., and that they had met Thweatt in Springfield, Mo., while traveling east.

Thweatt, officers said, related that he was wanted by police in California and New Mexico.

If you were as hot as I am, you'd been running too," he said.

Gave Up Stolen Car

The three had abandoned their stolen car and fled on foot when highway patrolmen caught up with them near Litchfield.

Thweatt said he would have shot the officer who collared him as he scampered out of a ditch, "but I dropped my gun." A loaded .32 caliber pistol was found nearby.

Parkhurst surrendered next after a shot was fired over his head, and Elkins then gave up without a fuss.

Albert O'Neil, Mansfield detective, said the three would be questioned throughout the early hours today as police sought to get their statements.

One of them—O'Neil declined to say which one—admitted the abduction and the robbery of $18 from the Mansfield couple. Police at the time had not questioned the other two.

No charges were filed immediately.

Fred Townsend, One of Legion Founders, Dies

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) —Fred Blair Townsend, one of the founders of the American Legion, died Monday in a Phoenix hospital. He was 73.

Townsend suffered a heart attack last June and had been hospitalized since that time.

Born in Weedsport, N. Y., in 1885, Townsend came to Arizona in 1910 and opened a law office.

He volunteered for military duty in World War I and in 1919 was a member of the St. Louis caucus which organized the American Legion. He twice was national president of the Society of American Legion Founders.

Townsend also served as president of Lions International and Commercial Law League.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Survivors include his widow, Norma, and two daughters, Mrs. Paul Wusielewski, of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mrs. Kurt R. Miller, of Munich, Germany.

Montgomery Man Held For Theft of Records

James R. Cooper, 20, of RD 1, Montgomery, was arrested during the weekend on a charge of burglary third degree involving the alleged theft of a box of long-playing records from a home at Allard Corners near Walkkill.

Cooper was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Louis Canino of the Town of Lloyd, waived examination and was released in his own custody pending action of the grand jury.

Highland state police said Cooper entered the home of Arlene Brown about 3:30 p. m. Sunday and took the records.

Hammer & Sickle Pennants Cannot Wave on the Moon

WASHINGTON (AP)—If those hammer-and-sickle pennants of the Soviet moon rocket are real flags, they're not waving on the moon—because there is no breeze on the airless moon.

But, as one top American astronomer put it to a reporter, "placing even a dead pennant on the moon is really something."

"I wish we had done it first ourselves," said Dr. Gerald Clemence of the U. S. Naval Observatory.

John M. Raymond, deputy legal adviser to the State Department, said the United States is taking the position that any rocket planting of a flag on the moon would not give the U.S.S.R. or anyone else a claim to rule over it.

However, he added, the United States as yet has "no views on how far you would have to go" to claim moon sovereignty.

The Soviets triumphantly said their moon rocket bore pennants emblazoned with the arms of the Soviet Union and an inscription "the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, September 1959."

But the Soviet announcement didn't make entirely clear whether the pennants were painted on the rocket's casing—or were regular flags.

However, if they are real flags, they're just lying—or standing—limo up there.

The reason is that the moon is a world without air, without wind or weather. It has no atmosphere to speak of.

'58 Milk Output

Under Prior Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 47 per cent of the milk produced in 1958 went into the manufacture of dairy products, such as butter, cheese, ice cream, dried milk and other milk products.

The total quantity, however, was 2 per cent less than in 1957.

Domestic production of Munster, Italian and cream cheese was at a record high level last year. Other products setting new records included cottage cheese, plain condensed whole milk, ice milk, non-fat dry milk for human food and dry whey.

Creamery butter production was 1,388,649,000 pounds, down 2 per cent from 1957 but one per cent more than the 1952-56 annual average.

Buffalo Men Named

To Authority Posts

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Two Buffalo men, a business executive and a lawyer, are new members of the Niagara Frontier Post Authority.

Gov. Rockefeller Monday appointed Roswell F. Thoma, 69, president of the Niagara Transit System Inc. and the Thoma Paper Box Co., and Robert M. Hitchcock to the unsalaried board.

They fill posts created when the 1959 Legislature raised the membership of the authority to 10.

The previous appointments are subject to confirmation by the Senate when it convenes next January.

Says Law Unrealistic

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—The state superintendent of banks says he and the Banking Board should be granted the authority to allow savings and loan associations to establish branches.

The law now permits savings and loan associations to have a branch only when their home offices are in communities with a population of more than 20,000.

Supt. G. Russell Clark said Monday this law was unrealistic.

"In the interest of providing flexibility," Clark said, "...our law should permit the superintendent (of banks) and the Banking Board to authorize savings and loan associations to establish new facilities where this would benefit the areas involved."

Clark spoke before the annual convention of the Savings Assn. League of New York State.

Saugerties Scouts Of Troop 130 See Local Landmarks

Members and leaders of Boy Scout Troop 130, sponsored by Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW visited a series of village and town landmarks this weekend and camped overnight near Asbury.

The historic trail hike was conducted in keeping with the local observance of the Hudson-Champlain Celebration.

In the village they visited the site of the Old Post Tavern and the Kiersted Homestead. On the hike along Old Kings Highway they saw Schoentag's old stone colonial inn and Person's old stone house where John Jacob Astor had his fur trading post with the Indian called Night John.

They visited the Katsbaan Church which was founded with the help of the West Camp Palatines in 1722.

At Asbury they placed an historical point marker at the spot where the Saugerties troops returning from the Battle of Saratoga were welcomed and feasted by the town's people in 1777.

Information regarding the various sites and historical data was provided by Miss Pauline Hommel, local historian.

After an overnight camp out near the Asbury site, the troops and two leaders visited the historic St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church at West Camp, founded by the Palatines in 1710.

Scoutmaster Robert Gardner described the historical facts at each site.

While at the West Camp Church the group was shown the crypt of the Rev. Joshua Kochert, first pastor of the church and leader of the Palatines. The remains of the Rev. and Mrs. Kochert are entombed in the vestibule of the church behind the huge gravestone embedded in the wall.

PTA Schedules Banquet Sept. 26

The annual banquet of Saugerties Parent-Teacher Association will be held Saturday, Sept. 26 in Saugerties High School cafeteria, Washington Avenue.

The banquet will mark the beginning of the association's activities for the year. The new members of the Saugerties Central Schools faculty to be introduced at the banquet will be the honored guests. The occasion will provide an opportunity for teachers and parents to become better acquainted.

Reservations for the roast beef or turkey dinner must be made with Robert Shapiro before Sept. 22.

Those working on the banquet arrangements include Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bolander, Mrs. Paul Rinde, Mrs. James Mills, Mrs. Allen Lund, Mrs. Ulisses Van Aken, David Cunningham, Leona Hogan, Miss Frances Larned, and Herbert Stiles, president. Floral decorations will be provided by the Saugerties Garden Club.

Schools Closed

Sept. 28 During

Teachers Training

Pupils in the Saugerties Central Schools will enjoy a day of vacation Monday, Sept. 28, while teachers are in training.

Fewer than half the House members were present for Saturday's session. Many of them have been abroad for some time. Others had gone home for the weekend.

That meant Saturday's session lacked a quorum—the attendance of at least half the members. If one member had objected, the House would have had to adjourn until enough of the wanderers were called back. No one objected, so some routine business was taken care of.

Under consideration is a proposed rule that would bar use of public funds for congressional travel overseas while Congress is in session. Any member going abroad at that time would have to pay his own way.

Absenteeism has been a vital factor several times in recent weeks. Some Democrats believe the first veto of a public works bill could have been overridden if absent members had been on hand.

Complete Fiscal Exam Of 4 School Districts

The completion of the fiscal examination for a number of towns, schools, villages and other special districts in the state, including four school districts in Ulster County, was announced today by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

They are: Former Union Free School District 4, Town of Hurley; Former Common School District 4, Town of Rosendale; Former Union Free School District 4, Town of Ulster, and Former Common School District 2, Town of Woodstock.

Copies of the examination reports have been sent to the school officials. Since the reports are a part of the public record, they are available for review by interested citizens.

A copy of each of the reports is also on file at the Department of Audit and Control in Albany and available for public inspection.

May Ban Visits Abroad While U.S. Congress Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders may ban junkets next year while Congress is in session.

Junkets are those taxpayer-paid trips abroad so dear to the heart of so many congressmen.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—In its first session, the 86th Congress has passed a number of bills in which business has a stake—and has failed to act on as many more in which business interest is keen.

The new labor bill that President Eisenhower signed into law Monday could have the widest effect in time—although it may have to be interpreted in the courts before management will know just how far these effects will reach.

Lump all the money bills together and you touch one of business' most sensitive nerves—the national debt and its pressure on further inflation and on interest rates in a tightening money squeeze.

A number of industries are directly affected by what Congress is doing about national defense—the total to be spent and the fields in which Congress wants it spent. The ups and downs in the order prospects of a number of companies was reflected quickly in the stock market.

The construction industry kept close watch as the three housing bills went their stormy course. It can use the one billion dollars finally voted for over two years.

The private electric utilities eyed the Tennessee Valley Authority's victory at long last in getting the right to float its own bonds for funds to add power facilities.

Like everyone else, business will be paying a higher federal gasoline tax. But road builders are happy that the federal aid to the highway program wasn't scuttled.

Exporters—and they are scattered through many industries and in all parts of the nation—have a stake in the total of foreign aid and the restrictions on how it shall be spent. A number of companies here will be booking orders as a result.

Foreign traders also are affected by the setting up of an Inter-American Bank and the committing of more money as shares in the World Bank and in the International Monetary Fund.

Smaller segments of business had a particular interest in federal grants for airport construction, money for depressed areas and aid to education. The first was pared down and the other two pigeonholed.

And many companies and communities are deeply interested in the public works bill passed over the President's veto. It means orders and jobs, no matter how painful to taxpayers elsewhere.

The labor bill's impact is largely by on union members and their leaders. But if various sections are upheld in the courts, business is closely involved.

Maybe it just seems like the worst behaved kid in school has the best attendance record.

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City was all set to fete Nikita Khrushchev at the plush Waldorf-Astoria ballroom—until 832 firm-jawed dentists lowered the boom.
But what about the menus, gasped flustered officials? And the guest lists? And the security arrangements?

Tough luck, said the dentists. Now the Soviet Premier, city officials and 1,000 other luminaries who looked forward to the Waldorf luncheon Thursday will have to go elsewhere.
Neither veiled pressures nor appeals to civic virtue could budge the American Dental Assn.
They had booked the Waldorf's grand ballroom four years ago for their convention, they declared, and they weren't moving for anybody—not even Mr. K.
It wasn't a question of politics, they said, simply convenience.
The whole squabble "could have been prevented by proper planning," said Dr. Percy T. Phillips, ADA president.
The Khrushchev luncheon was transferred Monday from the Waldorf to the ballroom of the Commodore Hotel, nine blocks away.
The menu will be the same, but the guests will be a bit more crowded and the elaborate security precautions will have to be rearranged.

Protests Listed Before Arrival of Soviet Premier

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Many Americans got their feelings about communism off their chests Monday—well in advance of the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for his United States tour.
Apparently motivated by the government's plea for courtesy to an important visitor, many church organizations and East European groups staged pre-arrival protest demonstrations.
Most such groups have indicated they would not demonstrate—at least not violently—while the Soviet premier and his party are on U.S. soil.
But many sections of the country saw anti-Khrushchev parades, rallies, mourning protests and other demonstrations.

Many newspapers carried paid editorials calling on Americans to mourn and warning against the dangers of too much friendliness toward Communism.
At Rochester, N.Y., and New Haven, Conn., persons of East European origin held silent marches.
A Hungarian church in New York was draped inside and out with black for the entire 12 days of the Soviet leader's visit.
In Boston two men draped the outdoor plaque of the Declaration of Independence.
In Washington a protest rally by the American Council of Christian Churches, which represents a small and fundamentalist segment of American Protestantism, drew 600 to the Washington Monument grounds. Chairs had been set up for 2,500.
Roman Catholic churches in many areas called for tolling of funeral bells, prayers and other mourning demonstrations.

Khrushchev

leading from the airfield to Washington—Khrushchev's route from the airport—the security men took up their posts early, prepared for virtually any contingency.
Meantime, just plain spectators sought places of vantage.
And everywhere swarms of newsmen and photographers, Soviet and American, were in evidence.
Because of the scrambled arrival schedule Eisenhower twice changed his plans for getting to the airport. Originally he had expected to go by car, then ordered up a helicopter, and still later he called for a car once more.
It was a clear, sparkling day and the temperature was in the 70s.

Premier Radios Greetings
Over Scandinavia, Moscow radio reported, Khrushchev had flashed greetings to Premier Edvard Heide of Norway and Tage Erlander of Sweden, a gesture emphasizing the propaganda undercurrents in the Khrushchev visit which have concerned many Western leaders.
And as he winged over Canada Khrushchev messaged Prime Minister John Diefenbaker: "I send you and your colleagues and through you, the whole Canadian people, friendly greetings and best wishes."
Some expected the Soviet leader to produce some sort of highly dramatic surprise during his American tour, possibly at the U. N. Friday. Khrushchev has proclaimed his purpose to be securing "peaceful conditions for all persons on earth."
But most American leaders indicated they expected no sudden and miraculous melting of the cold war ice as a result of the Soviet leader's 13-day visit.

John F. Rogers, and later the lieutenant drove his car to Vassar Hospital for further treatment.
Fireman Clifford Kihlmeier suffered burns of the left side of his neck when a burning ember dropped under his collar. Fireman Joseph Schultz received a laceration of his left arm while fighting the flames. Both were treated at the scene by Dr. Rogers.

Burns Into Other Home
Originating on the rear porch of 34 South Bridge Street, the fire burned through a rear window and door and mushroomed through the outer walls into the residence at 36 South Bridge Street. Flames swept up through hallways and partitions to the attic and cockpit of the duplex house and soon the fire leaped to the house at 38 South Bridge Street.

One estimate of the damage fixed the fire loss at $50,000.
At 12:07 a. m. firemen were called back to 38 South Bridge Street after fire was discovered burning timbers and smoldering in the walls. The flames were quickly subdued.
The duplex house is owned by Mrs. Rebecca Posofsky of 170 Union Street, Poughkeepsie.
Firemen found it necessary to assist two occupants from the burning houses. They were identified as Marge Murphy, who resided at 34 South Bridge Street and Wolfgang Burger, who occupied a room on the lower floor at 36 South Bridge Street.
Some of the other occupants at 34 South Bridge Street were listed as Anna Pizzardi, Donald and Judith Slover, and Edward Allen, resided at 36 South Bridge Street, and the house next door is owned and occupied by Harlow and Mary Kelsey.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market losses deepened as the tempo of trading speeded early this afternoon.
Key stocks dropped from fractions to well over a point. Some of the more widely moving issues fell 2 to 5 points.

The market was moderately lower at the start. Prices softened gradually in moderate trading then the pace quickened as stocks weakened further after midday.
The decline affected most sections of the list. Some rubbers and a few selected issues bucked the downturn. As the session wore on the drop was almost as severe as Monday's.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the country caused a heightened uncertainty but brokers said that the growing credit squeeze and raising of interest rates was the dominant factor.
The U.S. Treasury's short-term borrowing costs rose to 4 per cent for the first time in 26 years. Meanwhile, the steel strike dragged to the end of its ninth week.

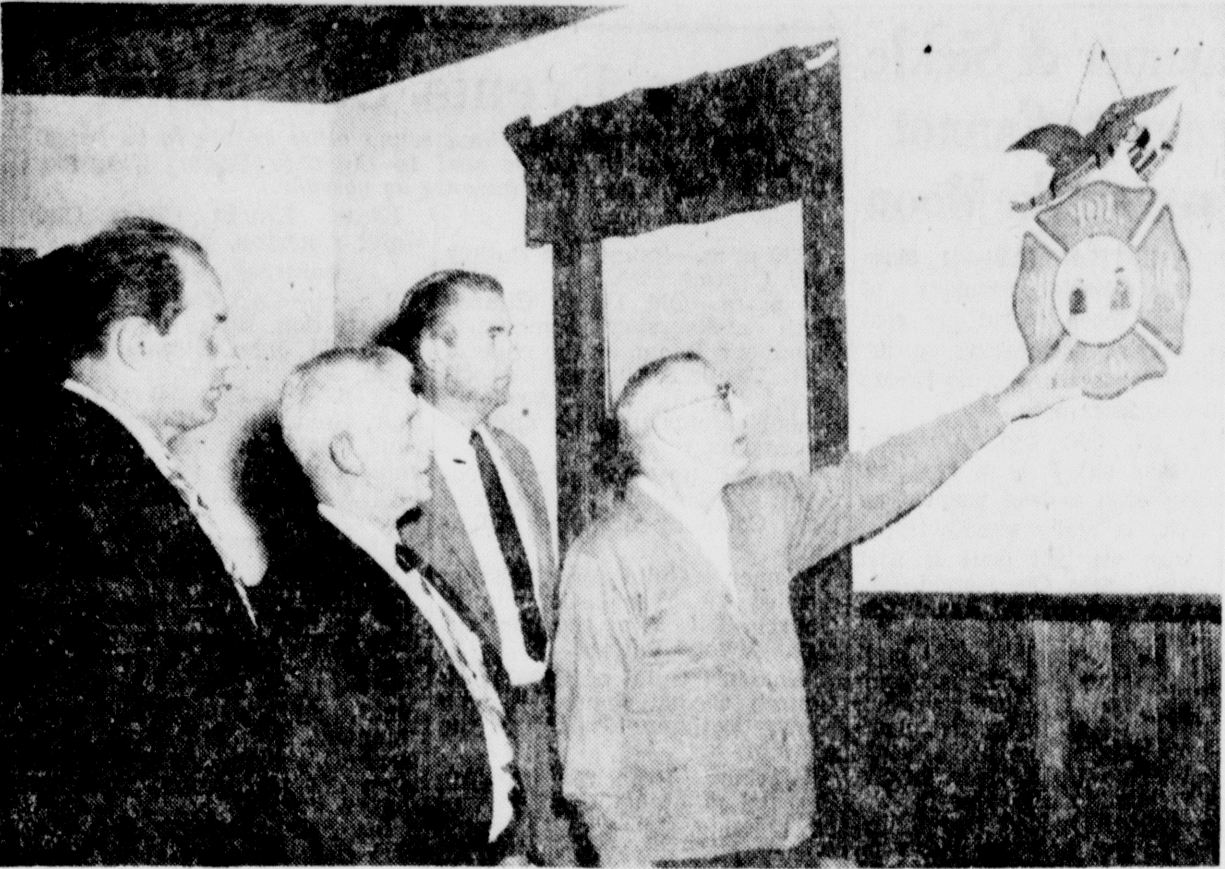

Electronics, aircrafts, oils, rails, nonferrous metals, utilities, chemicals, drugs, building materials and electrical equipments joined in the retreat.
Du Pont was down around 5. Texas Instruments was off about 2.
Ford and American Motors fell more than a point each. General Motors lost a point or more.

U. S. Steel, Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet were off about a point each.
Down about 2 points were such stocks as Union Carbide, Allied Chemical and Schering.

Losses of a point or so were shown by Thiokol, General Instrument, Zenith, Johns-Manville, General Electric, Southern Railway, Kennecott and International Nickel.

Ellenville Woman Murphy Appeal

inside. At his request the woman got a knife from the kitchen after the intruder said he wanted to cut the string on the box to show the shirts.

Suddenly, the man turned with knife in hand and held it against Mrs. Buchwalter and announced: "This is a stick up—don't move and you won't get hurt."
Chief Groppe said the man forced Mrs. Buchwalter into a bedroom, where he covered her eyes and mouth with 2 1/2-inch adhesive tape. Then he taped her feet and bound her hands behind her back.

"Where do you keep your furs, jewelry and money?" the man demanded, according to the police chief, who said the woman was unable to answer because her mouth was taped.

Steals, Jewels, Furs

The chief said the man quickly removed the tape from the woman's mouth, and she told him where she kept the money, jewelry and furs. The chief said the man had asked where Mrs. Buchwalter kept her $100 bills. The robber pulled a diamond pinky ring from the woman's finger and then he gathered up a light tan mink stole worth $1,200, other furs, a box of costume jewelry of undetermined value and $50 or $60 he took from a wallet. The chief said the ring was valued at $1,200.

Before he left the house the stranger cut the telephone wire inside the residence.
Authoritis believe the robber had a confederate who waited in an old gray car. After gathering up the loot the man hurried to the vehicle and drove away.

Screams for Help

A few minutes later, the chief said, Mrs. Buchwalter managed to get off the bed. She made her way to a window which was raised a couple of inches and she screamed for help.
Groppe said neighbors heard the screams and simultaneously, John Hull, of Ellenville, who was down the street with his wife, also heard the cries for help. He traced them to the Buchwalter home. About the same time, Police Sergeant Leo Gorton, who lives a few houses down the street from the Buchwalter, was told by his wife she had heard someone calling for help.

Gorton hurried to the house, arriving shortly after Hull had entered through the side door. Hull had removed the adhesive tape and freed the frightened woman. Gorton immediately got word to police headquarters and Bureau of Criminal Investigation troopers from the Ellenville sub-station were called in to assist in the investigation.

Seen by Neighbors

Teletype alarms were sent out and roadblocks were set up in the area.
Groppe said neighbors had seen the man leave the car and go into the Buchwalter home, and one neighbor saw Mrs. Buchwalter admit the stranger so her suspicions were not aroused.
The chief stated that some who saw the automobile in which the man made a getaway described it as an old gray car, possibly a Chevrolet.

Ruling on City Transportation

"While transportation must be furnished as outlined above to children residing in the area consolidated with the City School District, the children residing within the original city school district are not required, as a matter of law, to be furnished transportation. However, if the board of education does furnish transportation to children who reside within the original city school district, it would need to make such transportation equally available to all children in the district who reside either in the original city school district, or in the area consolidated with the city school district."

Attorney Arthur B. Ewig, who represented the petitioner on appeal, said that the matter of who took the appeal was "academic" and that the appeal in any event apparently would have been denied. He pointed out that Rogers Murphy, appellant, appealed personally and also represented the Kingston Rural School Area Committee and "other similarly situated."

Says Board Has Right

Ewig also pointed out that the decision in referring to hazardous conditions states that this should be "seriously considered" by the board of education, though the "degree of hazard is not itself a factor in making a determination in respect to school transportation."

DOWNTOWN—Freeman SquarePlane Search Over,
Report Called Hoax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A West Coast air search for a missing four engine plane ended Monday with authorities convinced they'd been victimized by a hoax.

On Sunday a man identifying himself as Paul Parron of the British Embassy in Washington, D.C., called the Los Angeles airport tower and filed a verbal flight plan to Seattle in a four engine de Havilland Heron.

Although he never notified the tower he took off, air officials had to assume he was missing when he never reported in by radio.

Air search units scoured California, Oregon and Washington for hours before the British Embassy said it knew of no Paul Parron and that its one de Havilland Heron was sitting at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland.

Largest tributary of the Ohio River is the Tennessee River. The latter is 652 miles long.

Major Ellenville
Blaze Is Averted
By Quick Action

Alertness and quick action of Ellenville firemen under the command of Fire Chief Purvis Damms, Monday night averted what might have developed into a major fire in Ellenville's business district on Canal Street, according to Police Chief Frank Groppe.

Groppe said the fire apparently originated in the rear of Shirley's restaurant. "Prompt action and timely arrival of firemen evidently averted what might have developed into a major blaze," Groppe told The Freeman.

A dry goods store owned by Mrs. Lillie Golden also occupies space in the building.

Groppe said the fire was reported at 9:19 p. m.

CEMENT PLANT KILN SECTION DELIVERED—The fifth of six sections of the kiln section being installed at the North Street plant of Hudson Cement Company was escorted Monday afternoon from the Town of Ulster line to the plant by Kingston Police Officer Frank Stip. Members of the transportation crew check overhead wires at the intersection of Flatbush Ave-ue and the East Chester Street by-pass. The kiln, when completely assembled, will be used to process a mixture into clinker used in the manufacture of cement. This is the second kiln to be installed at the plant. Delivery is being made from Dansville, Pa. Sections being delivered are approximately 100 feet long and 17 feet high. (Freeman photo).

Longest Congress

admit Hawaii as the 50th state and to pass a far-reaching labor regulation bill.

But the list of major bills left over for what must be a far shorter session next year is longer than the roll of 1959 accomplishments. Congress then will be driving for an early July adjournment, in advance of the Democratic national convention meeting July 11 in Los Angeles.

Busy Session Looms

The held-over list includes civil rights, a general farm bill, aid to education, minimum wage legislation, aid for depressed areas, broadening of social security, and perhaps general tax revision.

On several important issues, the Democratic leadership got legislation passed this year, but reduced far below expectations at the start of the session.

In this category were housing, highways, and aid for airport construction.

The spending issue dominated much of the session, with President Eisenhower getting far more mileage out of this than many Democrats had believed possible eight months ago. The complete recovery from the 1957-58 economic recession aided the administration in this fight.

Still Record Sum

To meet the spending charge, Democrats claimed they had cut the President's appropriations requests by $1,811,000,000. But, even so, the total of $81,975,368,352 voted in the session was a record for any peacetime year, and fell below only two World War II and two Korean War years. Republicans said indirect appropriations would add still more.

Probably the most dramatic debates this year in both branches swirled around the labor regulation bill. The measure which resulted was a big victory for Eisenhower.

Congress finally passed a broad measures regulating unions' internal affairs on such matters as finances, elections and trusteeships and members' rights, and changing the Taft-Hartley law to limit unions' boycott and organizational picketing activities.

The President did not fare so well on some of his major requests.

The Democrats turned down his plea for a removal of the 4½ per cent interest rate ceiling on long term bonds, and ignored his request for legislation to try to cut down on the mounting farm surpluses.

Slowdown in Offering

The President asked for a 1½ cent a gallon increase in the gasoline tax to keep the national superhighway program going and meet a deficit in the highway trust fund.

The Democrats at first rejected any gas tax hike but finally reluctantly put through a temporary 1 cent boost. Even with this there will be a slowdown in the program.

On housing, the Democrats had to settle for a one-billion-dollar bill carrying authorizations which were only about one-third of their original proposals. Eisenhower twice vetoed slightly larger housing measures, and the Senate Democrats both times failed in efforts to override.

On civil rights, the only action was the extension of the Civil Rights Commission.

But advocates of a broad bill did gain a promise that there would be a floor consideration in the Senate next February.

Primary to Test

ernor and U. S. senator, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Thomas K. Finletter, former U. S. Air Force secretary.

In Schenectady, voters were deciding a five-way fight for the Republican nomination to succeed Oswald D. Heck, who died this year after 28 years as a GOP assemblyman, 23 of them as speaker.

Three Democrats in Brooklyn were candidates for the Assembly seat left vacant by the death of Democrat Bernard Haber.

Woman Seeks Seat

In Westchester, Mrs. Mary M. Barker, a lawyer making her first bid for public office, was an insurgent for the Republican nomination for the Assembly.

There were no contests for party nominations for other legislative posts left vacant by death or resignation. Senate seats are vacant in Nassau and Westchester counties and Assembly seats in both those counties and in Bronx and Rensselaer counties.

The Democratic primary in Buffalo for president of the City Council pitted former Congressman Chester E. Gorski against Charles W. Halloran, former first deputy state industrial commissioner. Halloran was the insurgent.

Space Program
May Be Plan for Nikita's Visit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rocket pioneer Dr. Willy Ley says the Soviets may try to achieve one of these space accomplishments during Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit:

1. Putting a man in orbit.
2. Putting up a satellite so high — 22,300 miles — that it would make a 24-hour orbit, causing it to seem to hang in one part of the sky indefinitely.
3. Sending up a cluster of balloons which could be inflated after orbit to a diameter so big they could be seen with the naked eye.

Oil Burner Defect Threatens Stores In Shopping Area

Quick action by volunteers of Saugerties Fire Department in de-activating a defective oil burner in the basement of the Clum Building at 241 Main Street, Saugerties prevented the possibility of an explosion in the heart of the business district Monday night.

Firemen responding to the call at about 9:15 p. m. found the basement and two stores on the premises filled with dense vapor. Four volunteers in two shifts wearing Scott Air Paks fought their way through dense fuel oil vapor to turn off the oil burner which was found flooded, according to Fire Chief Edward P. Sweeney.

A second team of two firemen made another trip into the vapor filled basement to make certain no flame was present.

The family of Lewis E. Voigt in one of the apartments above were asked to vacate the building by firemen. The other apartment in the building was vacant.

Chief Sweeney reported considerable dense vapor entered the store rented by United Cleaners. The other store in this section of the building was being used by the owner Franklin P. Clum for storage and the window for a show room.

Washington Hook and Ladder Company, C. A. Lynch Fire Company and the Exempt Firemen's truck responded to the alarm.

Cedar Grove Vols Accreditation by State Is Pending

Cedar Grove Emergency Squad, organized as a community enterprise about 10 years ago, has filed with the state for incorporation papers which will make it an accredited fire fighting unit of the Town of Saugerties and provides recognition as a company in Centerville Fire District.

The change of status with incorporation will mean volunteers in the company will have insurance coverage under the township's blanket policy and Centerville District funds will be available for maintenance and any new equipment needed.

Recognition by the Centerville Fire District commissioners was granted at a recent meeting. The State Board of Underwriters recently inspected the equipment of the emergency squad and made recommendations.

Recommendations include purchase of 250 feet of hose; two fire extinguishers, a hook and fire axe.

The movement of the emergency squad for recognition has been underway for over six years. In November 1953, when the matter was discussed among fire officials, the Cedar Grove unit stood firm in its belief that they should maintain its present autonomous administration.

At that time officials of Centerville Fire Company were of the opinion that if recognized the emergency squad would come under the jurisdiction of the Centerville fire chief.

The present apparatus of the emergency squad includes a 1941 International pump which has a capacity of 500 gallons per minute. There are 26 active members in the newly reorganized company.

At a recent meeting of the volunteers Robert "Ike" Mower was elected president; Donald Johnston, vice president; Percy Mower, captain; Leonard Sinnott, secretary; Douglas Finger, treasurer; Donald Johnston, first driver; William Terwilliger, second driver; Robert Mower, third driver; and Percy Mower, fourth driver. Foster Finger was named chaplain, and Alson Finger, sergeant-at-arms.

At that time they voted Percy Mower and William Winnie life membership in the company for their efforts in organizing the unit and helping establish the two bay fire station situated next to the Cedar Grove School on Route 32.

Six Teams Sweep In Dart League Opening Games

Six teams in Saugerties Dartball League shutout their opponents 3 to 0 in the opening games of the season Monday night. Two others won 2 to 1 splits.

Winning three were Service Center B's over Service Center A's; Quarryville over Golden Eagles; Katsbaan over Centerville Vols; Centerville over Veteran; West Camp over Malden-West Camp Vols, and Ruby over Mt. Marion.

Trinity won 2 to 1 over American Legion, and Glasco Vols defeated Glasco AC 2 to 1.

The likelihood of a third Glasco team entering the league and taking the No. 13 slot in the schedule was proposed to league officials. The team would be sponsored by Fred Davi and its home court would be the Glasco Athletic Club rooms. If the team is franchised by the league it would open against West Camp at West Camp firehouse Monday night. Granting of the new franchise will be announced this week by league officials.

Next Monday's games are as follows:

Katsbaan at Service Center B's; Service Center A's at Centerville Vols; Quarryville at Centerville; Veteran at Golden Eagles; Malden-West Camp Vols at Cementon; Glasco Vols at Ruby; Mt. Marion at American Legion; Trinity at Glasco AC, and West Camp, idle.

Golden Eagle home court is at Quarryville Dartball Hall, and Veteran plays at Bonack's garage on Route 212 opposite the home court is at West Camp

Yout hls Injured, Two Cars Wrecked In Hurley Crash

A 23-year-old youth was injured and two automobiles were wrecked as the result of a collision which occurred at 9:15 p. m. Monday on Route 209 at Hurley.

Trooper David Wachtel of Lake Katrine stated that Robert Wood, of Phillipsport, suffered chest and possible internal injuries. The youth was summoned on a charge of driving a motor vehicle without insurance. He was taken to Kingston Hospital and admitted.

According to Trooper Wachtel, Wood was driving his 1955, automobile north on Route 209 when he failed to negotiate a left curve. His car left the pavement and ran into a 1951 sedan owned by Florence E. Griffin, Route 3, Kingston, which was parked on the property of Charles Lockwood.

After hitting the Griffin vehicle, Wood's car smashed into the porch of the Lockwood home, damaging the front of the house.

Safety Play Scores at Meet

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How would you like to play today's hand?

You win the opening club lead with the ace, draw trumps with three leads and play a spade. East is in with the king and plays a club which you trump. Another spade lead knocks out East's ace and the chances are that he leads a diamond.

This is the way that the play went at the Nationals in Chicago and Bill Grieve of New York helped his team to their victory by playing absolutely safe for his contract.

He went up with the ace of diamonds, cashed his last spade and led a low diamond from his hand.

This play gave up any chance for an overtrick since he was automatically conceding a trick to the queen but it constituted a fine insurance policy since no matter how the cards lay he was going to bring home the bacon.

As you can see West won the trick and had to lead. A diamond return would lose but so would any other play.

Javits, Keating Keep N.Y. Alive For 1964 Fair

WASHINGTON (AP)—It wasn't filibustering, New York's two senators say, but whatever it was, it succeeded in blocking a vote on a resolution the senators contend was aimed at thwarting New York's plans for a world's fair in 1964.

Several other cities, including Washington, want to hold the fair.

Monday night, amid cries of filibuster, Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating kept on talking until the Senate, bound for adjournment, agreed to lay the resolution aside.

The measure would have placed the Senate on record as urging President Eisenhower to establish a special commission to select the site for a world's fair if one was to be held at all.

Javits and Keating, Republicans, contended that the resolution was designed as a "Stop New York" measure. They said a site committee would be snarled in red tape and never would report in time for the scheduled November meeting of the International Expositions Bureau, which gives official recognition to world's fairs.

AMERICAN MENU

Better Family Meals Satisfy The Vital Adolescent Needs

Good food—in quantity—is a "must" for healthy, happy adolescents. Well-balanced foods build better youngsters.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor

In general, food gets top billing by the American adolescent.

A study, with their permission, of the diaries of 107 high school and freshman class college students made at Long Island University revealed an overwhelming interest in masses of food. A party was good, regardless of the prettiness of the girls, ONLY if there were "mountains" of sandwiches, "pyramids" of cakes and "gallons" of soft drinks and coffee.

Meals at friends' homes were rated according to the size of the steak, the "big platters" of hamburgers, the "buckets" of potatoes and "quarts" of ice cream.

Some diaries had entries about the kind of people the parents were, the house, and other matters, but those were mostly by the girls.

However, both girls and boys invariably gave most attention to the food, whether at weddings, christenings, receptions or fraternity dances.

Dr. D. P. Cuthbertson, director of the Rowett Research Institute in Buckburn, Scotland, commented on the disparity between the outlook on life between youth and adults and in food needs.

"The period of adolescence is, apart from childhood, the most eventful period of life: physically, biologically and emotionally," he stated.

After urging more tolerance and sympathy for teen-agers' attitudes, he added: "Special care has to be taken, particularly of youths, to make allowances for additional muscle development and increase in strength which occurs. Meal arrangements are frequently inadequate and snacks to bridge the gap are ill-balanced."

The family dinner table, psychologists and nutritionists agree, can be a major factor in helping adolescents to find themselves. They need affection, tolerance and an attempt to understand them. And they need at least twice as much food as their parents.

Dr. Cuthbertson warned that the calories, proteins, riboflavin, iron and possibly calcium, often fall below their needs.

Better meals for families with adolescent sons or daughters call for more meat, fish, eggs, poultry and cheese, more wholegrained or enriched cereals and more milk.

If their stomachs seem like bottomless pits, they are not gluttons. Nutritionally balanced food in extra portions, served in a congenial and sympathetic atmosphere, will ultimately prove to you that better meals mean more stable adolescents.

Nutritionally balanced snacks for after the barn dance, basketball game, movies or skating, are important, too. This inexpensive yet "filling" late supper menu will rate an entry in their diary.

MENTE: Carrots, celery strips, dill pickles, individual chicken pies (frozen variety), sugar maple nut cake with cream cheese frosting, gallons of ginger fruit punch.

Ginger Fruit Punch
(About 1½ gallons; 48 servings)
One package orange instant soft drink mix, 1 package raspberry instant soft drink mix, 2 cups sugar, 4 quarts water with ice cubes, 1 large bottle (28 or 29 ounces) gingerale.

Dissolve instant soft drink mix and sugar in the water-and-ice cube mixture. Just before serving, add gingerale.

Sugar Maple Nut Cake
One package sugar maple cake mix, 1¼ cups water, 2 eggs, unbeaten, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup finely chopped pecans.
Empty cake mix into a large bowl. Add water, eggs, and salt. Beat 3 minutes until batter is smooth and creamy. Stir in pecans. Pour batter into a greased and floured 9-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) 55 to 60 minutes. Let cool 10 minutes; turn out on a wire rack to finish cooling.

Gen. Hasbrouck Heads Red Cross 1960 Fund Group

General Sherman V. Hasbrouck (U. S. Army retired) of Stone Ridge was appointed chairman of the 1960 Fund Planning Committee for Ulster County Chapter, American Red Cross at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the local chapter last Wednesday.

The General requested the co-operation and support of every member of the Board of Directors in the forthcoming campaign. He said that he expected each member to be accountable for the appointment of responsible persons in the townships and city wards.

Meyer Regenbogen of Ellenville was named chairman of the Finance Committee. The other members of the board are Francis X. Tucker and James A. Hanstein.

It was reported that Mrs. Ethel K. Wood, who served the local chapter as Home Service Director for the past 18 years, resigned because of ill health. Mrs. Walter K. Hubbard, executive director, has assumed the responsibility for the Home Service Department. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ethel V. Steward and the volunteers.

Resign from Board

Two other resignations also accepted with regret by the board were those of Mrs. Donald Allen and Robert J. Peebles from the Board of Directors. Mrs. Allen and her family are moving to Albany. She served as a member of the board since 1956 and was co-chairman of the fund campaign in New Paltz in 1956, fund chairman of county section two, which included the townships of Gardiner, Plattekill, Lloyd, Rosendale, Marlborough, Shawangunk and New Paltz. Mrs. Allen also served as secretary of the Planning Committee for the Red Cross Eastern Area Conference held at West Point in 1958.

Mr. Peebles, who has been a member of the board since 1956, also is moving to Albany.

Chapter Activities

Seventy-one active servicemen and 20 civilians were given service during the quarter period, June 1 to August 31, by the Ulster County Chapter. It was revealed to the board in a report of chapter activities.

The services included the categories of information, emergency leaves, reporting, government benefits, counseling, referral and financial assistance. In water safety, 1,163 certificates were issued. First aid courses were completed by 47 and Junior Red Cross members made memo pads and writing portfolios for patients in military hospitals.

Reports also were read on the chapter's participation in the search for the missing Raleigh boy and also the Ellenville fire disaster. A resolution adopted by the Winnisook Board of Directors expressing appreciation of Red Cross contribution in the searching operation was filed. Mrs. Daniel Weisberg related her experience in her first assignment as canteen chairman.

Utica Man Safe

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A 50-year-old lawyer walked out of the woods Monday after being lost for nearly three days.

Alford Smith of Utica was tired and hungry but otherwise in good condition.

He said he became lost Friday when darkness fell before he was able to return to his camp on Big Stoner Lake, about 18 miles north of here in the Spectacle Lakes region.

State Police, forest rangers and neighbors had been searching for him.

Henderson Confirmed

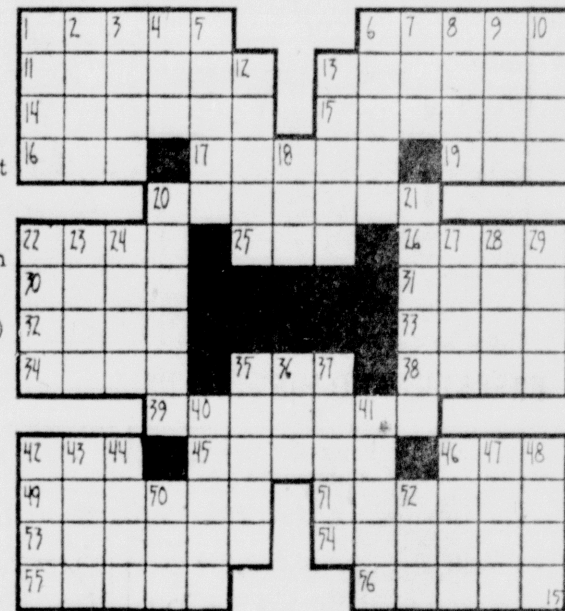

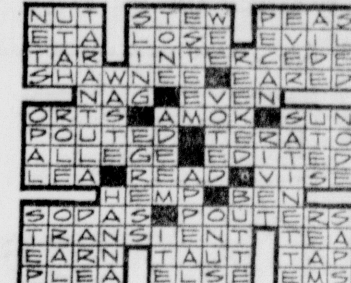

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of John O. Henderson to be a federal district judge for the Western District of New York State.

The Senate also confirmed Monday President Eisenhower's nomination of Earl J. Sardonson as postmaster in Fredonia, N. Y., and Robert K. Christenberry as postmaster in New York City.

Second to Face Trial

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Salvatore J. Buonpane, 29, of Brooklyn goes on trial today in the July, 1957, slaying of Earl H. Armentrout, reputed Richmond gambling house operator.

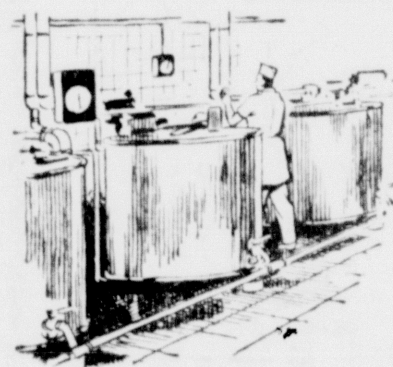

He is the second man to face trial in the slaying.

Monday John "Little Herbie" Mansour, 42, also of Brooklyn, was sentenced to life imprisonment after pleading guilty to a first-degree murder charge in the slaying.

Armentrout was shot to death when he and his wife returned home and apparently interrupted a burglary.

Others indicted in the slaying are Albert Yesbick, 37, of Prince Anne County, and Alfred A. Helal, 33, of Brooklyn. Their trial dates have not been set.

You get no place in a hurry when the only thing you're quick at is getting tired.

Young couples driving in the moonlight often turn off the main highway . . . using a fork for a spoon.

Right now it's too hot to wear high collars and, anyway, it's more fun to drink them.

Any black sheep in a family usually is also the goat.

A five-year-old tot was assigned by her schoolteacher to make a Christmas drawing—the interior of the stable where Christ was born. The youngster showed her father the finished picture. He studied it, then pointed to one item and asked what it was.

"Oh, that?" the child explained. "That's their TV set."

Middle age is when you still have the old spark but it takes more puffing.

"How old is Grandpa Higginbottom?" "I don't know but when the cake was brought in at his last birthday party, the room grew so hot they had to open all the windows."

Tourists Amused By Truck's Sign

A touch of humor always lightens the day.

Motorists on Highway 421 near Greensboro, N. C., recently were amused at the sign on the rear of a slow-moving bakery truck:

"Pass the bread, please."

Mabel—"Have you heard I'm engaged to an Irish boy?"

Violet—"Oh, really?"

Mabel—"No, O'Riley."

DO IT TOMORROW. You've made enough mistakes today.

'Bettina's Promise' Hilarious Woodstock Foundation Play

Paul Hamilton, the Woodstock chiropractor, was tougher, nastier and meaner than Simon LeGree ever dreamed of being, and the crowd hissed and booed his sinister machinations.

Barbara McGrath was sweet, sympathetic and professional in her role of Bettina, who made the promise, and endured untold agonies as Burley Peabody (Hamilton) and Horace Peabody (Billy Fager) vied for her hand. Jules Viglielmo was the farmer father in a delightful characterization. Young Jonathan Hubbell was superb and Bill West and Robert Eric Carlson tossed in highly effective performances. These were the principal ingredients that combined to make the Woodstock Foundation's annual production, "Bettina's Promise" a howling artistic and financial success in its two-night run before capacity audiences at the Woodstock Playhouse.

And the co-authors, Fritz Striabel and Virginia Hubbell, sat up near the front, luxuriating in the warm response inspired by their hilarious melodramatic takeoff on Stockwood circa 1902. It had corn, drama, suspense, comedy...every facet of the theatre.

John Pike was devastating in the role of a slightly tipsy carnival fan, a pantomime that had strong suggestions of the Jimmy Savo influence. Eda Crist as the fakie (pardon, phrenologist) displayed a highly developed sense of the dramatic.

Specialties Click

Jane Wilson Molyneaux and Penny Carlson in a song and dance act with a Gay Nineties flavor and Joyce Crowell, a brilliant young acrobatic dancer furnished a pleasant change of pace.

The sets by Haschi Marek and the lighting by Andrew Mihok were excellent, with the carnival scene (in Kingston, N. Y.) particularly professional.

The audience was in high humor both nights, hissing and applauding in the proper spots. There were several amusing scenes involving Hamilton and young Hubbell, Viglielmo, as the harassed father and Fager as the aspiring artist; between Bettina and Horace and Burley Peabody (ooh, that ogre!) and between Hamilton and the breezy Carlson in a hoary "goldbrick scene."

High Grade Production

It was a splendid production that recaptured the pristine flavor of the Woodstock Foundation. Directors Al Darnovsky and Ernie Ward milked every nuance possible for the hilarious script. It was all in all, a delightful evening of theatre for a wonderful cause. It started the Woodstock Foundation on the long road back to its former glories.

Other members of the cast, all of whom contributed to the all-around success of the play, included Kiki Godwin, Barbara Vos, Carol Viglielmo, Mary Graham, Benny Baptiste and Tony Cantine; Jim Comfort, Abe Molyneaux, Virginia Weinshimer, Milton Axtel, James B. Pond, Peter Moncreux, Joan Chalmers and the Foundation Army Band with Holly Gant, Milton Axel and Noelle Gilmore.

There was great activity in the lobby with ushers, pretzel children and bartenders keeping the intermissions at a lively pace. Bonnie Wilbur was captain of ushers, assisted by Annabelle Ladin, Lillian Melville, Priscilla Melville, Carol Quendau and Betty Lou Wilbur.

The pretzel children included Michell Alheim, Pookie Godwin, Gayle Hamilton, Craig Hubbell, Geraldine Jerominek, Paula Perlman, Sharon Umhey and Diane Zook.

Don and Connie Roman, representing the ailing Eddie Shannon, were the bar concessionaires and the staff of bar maids included: Eleanor Hamilton, Peggy Jerominek, Pat Mulligan, Cookie Neher, Ruth Shea, Fran Trnka, Ruth Tuck, Marion Umhey, Mary Waterous and Alma Zook. The bartenders were: Clark Bell, Mike Boyle, Bob Hastie, Bob Milliken, Andrea Neher, Barry Neher, Gene Snyder, Don West, John Peacock and Gordon Zook.

The staff for the production included: Walter Balk, general manager; Ted Geertsema, stage manager; box office, William Hand; makeup, Virginia Weinshimer, Don and Anita MacShane; lobby manager, Peggy Jerominek; Edith Heckerroth, script; prompter, Ida Macintyre; wardrobe, Pat Caunitz and Paula Quigley; music, Clementine Nesel; publicity, Bill Newgold; posters, Pat Burke; photography, Gus Schrader; signs, Jerry Jerominek; properties, John Harrison and Fran Trnka.

An Englishman passing by might have taken a peek at the shenanigans and dropped a hearty "good show."

Rotron's Profit Sharing Payment Sets New Record

J. C. van Rijn, president of Rotron Manufacturing distributed the final profit sharing payment for the company's 1958-59 fiscal year which ended June 30. The $82,400 was divided among the 316 eligible employees was the largest amount ever distributed. The total profit sharing for the year was $163,697 as compared to $135,306 for the previous year.

Not only was the past year a banner one with sales and profit up substantially but Rotron enters the new fiscal year in a very strong position. The order backlog is in excess of $1,500,000 which is a new record for the company, 63 per cent higher than it was a year ago. Incoming business is at record breaking levels and shipments during the first quarter of the new year promise to be high.

In making the presentation, Mr. van Rijn announced that new machine tools and additional tooling are being acquired. The new equipment will increase the company's production capabilities without any appreciable increase in the number of employees. This, in turn, will increase profits and profit sharing for the company's employees.

'Praising God Through Singing' Is Sermon Topic for Rev. Sands

Christ Lutheran Church plans to observe Youth Sunday on Sept. 20, the 17th Sunday after Trinity, at the 11 a. m. chief service. The theme is "Praising God Through Singing" and will include life stories of some of the beloved hymn writers.

There will be special numbers by both the Youth and Senior choirs, and a short meditation by the pastor, the Rev. G. Oliver Sands. The program is under the direction of the Luther League advisors, Mrs. Edna De Witt and Erwin Holmzer, assisted by Mrs. Erwin Holmzer and Ronald Gray.

Meeting Dates

Youth choir rehearses Thursday at 7 p. m.; Senior choir at 7:45 p. m.

The Young Women's Guild meets with Mrs. Karl Sieger on Monday, Sept. 21.

The annual congregation meeting, with reports of officers of various organizations and committees, will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 22. All members are urged to be present.

Holy Communion, with reception of members, is planned on October 4.

Talk Over Laos With Red China As Party: Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union says the only way to deal with the trouble in Laos is through an international conference, with Red China taking part.

The Soviets in an official statement issued Monday night by Tass news agency, again repudiated the U. N. fact-finding mission sent to investigate the tiny Asian kingdom's charges of aggression against the Communists.

The Soviet statement warned the West that the Security Council's action might have "far-reaching consequences for peace and security in Indochina."

The statement was timed with the arrival of the U. N. mission in Southeast Asia and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's takeoff for talks with President Eisenhower in Washington.

The Soviets demanded a conference to be "called without delay" by the countries that attended the 1954 Geneva conference which ended the French-Communist fighting in Indochina and brought independence to Laos. They were the United States, Britain, the Soviet Union, France, Red China, and the Indochinese states of South Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Communist North Viet Nam.

The first U. S. reaction to the Soviet proposal was cool. A source close to the situation said: "Apparently the Soviet leaders are not willing to let the U. N. fact-finders have a chance to make their report."

HIGHLAND NEWS

Fall Events Planned At First WSCS Meeting

HIGHLAND — The opening meeting of the WSCS was held Wednesday night in the Methodist church parlor with the president, Mrs. Harry B. Cotant Jr., presiding. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Gerald Jones, the minutes were taken by Mrs. Frank Kedenburg.

Mrs. Troy Cook, vice president and chairman of the program committee, presented the program of meetings and hostesses for the coming year. Miss Ethel Haines reported that there will be a showing of the mission film, "The Mark of the Hawk," Sept. 23. The receipts will go toward work in Sarawak, Borneo and Alaska. Miss Haines also announced that Dr. Willard N. Hogan of the State Teachers College, New Paltz would be the speaker at the October meeting of the society and talk on the United Nations.

Mrs. Cotant asked that members receiving blue stamps from stores in this area give them to the society that a projector might be obtained in this way. Volunteers for the greeting committee are: Sept. 13, Mrs. Cook; Sept. 20, Mrs. Henry Swift;

Sept. 27, Mrs. John F. Wadlin; Oct. 4, Mrs. Harold Dietz; Oct. 11, Mrs. Peter Wyant.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Castellano Jr., Mrs. Lloyd Plasse, Mrs. Richard Dunham, Mrs. Carrie Atkins.

Lloyd Auxiliary Sets Annual Halloween Fete

The annual masquerade dance sponsored by Lloyd Unit 193, American Legion Auxiliary, will be held Saturday, Oct. 31 at the Oddo House. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 2 o'clock. The auxiliary requests that no minors attend.

Judging will take place at 10:30. There will be five groups of awards with three in each group; the prettiest, most original, funniest, best couple and one for the best group.

Chairmen for the party are Eleanor Rizzo, Gertrude Rhoads, Constance Trapani, Lillian Copozzi and Mildred Conforti.

The installation dinner for the unit was held Sept. 1 at Reggies Inn. Mrs. Lester Sanford, third district chairman was the installing officer.

The following were installed: Mrs. Bertha DiLorenzo, president; Mrs. Florence Bragg, first vice president; Mrs. Arlene Conway, second vice president; Mrs. Eleanor Rizzo, treasurer; Mrs. Barbara Jost, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Feldt, chaplain; Mrs. Rose Russo, sergeant-at-arms.

Five year pins were awarded to Mrs. Josephine Pape, Mrs. Lillian Capozzi and Mrs. Mildred Conforti. Mrs. Capozzi was awarded the outstanding membership pin and Mrs. Ruth Feldt was presented with a past president's pin. The annual rummage sale will be held Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 23, 24, 25, and 26, at the Legion home on Vineyard Avenue. Mrs. Virginia Litts will serve as chairman. Anyone having articles for the sale may contact Mrs. Litts or Mrs. Bertha DiLorenzo.

Mrs. Bertha Bragg, membership chairman, requests all members pay their dues by Sept. 23. That Lloyd Unit will reach its 100 per cent membership by Oct. 15. Last year Lloyd Post received a citation for nearly 100 per cent memberships and hopes to repeat for this year.

Gaylord Assumes Presidency of Bell Aircraft

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Harvey Gaylord, president of the Bell Helicopter Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex., today became president of the Bell Aircraft Corp.

Gaylord was elected to the position Friday at a meeting of the board of directors in New York City.

Gaylord, 55, succeeds Leston Faneuf, who was president of the aircraft corporation since the death of its founder, Lawrence D. Bell, in 1956.

Stays as Copters Head

Faneuf, in making the announcement Monday said he would continue as chairman of the board and chairman of the executive committee.

The new president will remain as head of the helicopter division, a wholly owned subsidiary of Bell, Faneuf said.

Gaylord joined Bell in 1941 and was elected treasurer in 1947. He was named vice president of the helicopter operation in 1951 and soon after was elected its president.

"With Bell's defense business in Buffalo at a comparatively low level," Faneuf said, "we have decided it is the logical time to group the company's defense operations more closely from the standpoint of sales activity, production coordination and technical planning."

Co-Founder Retires

The administrative change followed closely the announced retirement of Ray P. Whitman, co-founder of the aircraft corporation with Bell. Whitman, 65, first vice president, said he would retire Jan. 1, but said he had no definite future plans.

Bell and Whitman made the aircraft corporation one of the leaders in aviation during World War II in the production of fighter planes.

He had been general manager of the Niagara Frontier division for the past 19 months.

In addition to the Frontier division, which is engaged solely in defense work, and the helicopter division, Bell has five wholly owned subsidiaries.

They are the Wheelabrator Corp. of Mishawaka, Ind.; W. J. Schoenberger Co. of Cleveland; Hydraulic Research and Manufacturing Co. of Burbank, Calif.; and two Buffalo organizations, the Lake Erie Machinery Corp. and the Birma Manufacturing Co.

State University

Announces Grants

Twenty scholarship grants in science and mathematics are available at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, for elementary teachers in the Catskill area, it was announced today by Dr. Richard F. Klix, director of the extension program.

Made available by the New York State Education Department, these scholarships cover full tuition of $90 and an allowance of $30 for elementary teachers in this area who wish to enroll in the New Paltz extension program.

The course scheduled for the first semester, beginning Tuesday, Sept. 29, at Catskill High School, Catskill, from 7 to 9:30 p. m., in entitled, "Astronomy." It carries three graduate credits.

Dr. Richard J. Ordway, professor of geology at New Paltz, will be the instructor.

Interested teachers may obtain additional information by writing to the director of extension, New Paltz.

11 Students End Summer Jobs at Hercules Company

Temporary summer employment has ended for 11 college students employed by Hercules Powder Company at the Port Ewen plant. These students, all local area residents, have performed a variety of jobs while at Hercules, including service work, laboratory work, and production work.

Most of the temporary employees began work during the early part of June, and all plan to return to college this month.

A list of the temporary student-employees, and the colleges they are attending is as follows:

IN THE Service

With Missile Group

PFC. Ronald A. Brandt, of Kingston, is a member of Firing Battery, 2d Missile Battalion, 80th Artillery, which successfully launched the Army's Corporal missile during the annual service practice Sept. 1-14 at the White Sands Missile Range, N. M. The Corporal, a guided surface-to-surface missile with a range of about 75 miles, could not be fired at the unit's permanent location at Fort Sill, Okla., because of range limitations.

Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Brandt, 97 Hunter Street, entered the Army in July 1958 and completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. The 23-year-old soldier attended Kingston High School. His wife, Janette, lives in Lawton, Okla.

Soldier of Month

S4 Edward M. Goldman, Headquarters, Det. 3rd Medical Battalion, stationed in Germany, was recently named "soldier of the month" for the battalion, according to an announcement in the "Marne Rock" military publication. A son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Goldman of Accord, he is a graduate of Kerhonkson High School and attended Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., from which he was graduated in 1957, shortly before entering military service. A member of the Battalion's S4 Section, Specialist Goldman was chosen on the basis of military bearing, personal conduct and knowledge of military subjects.

Enters Marine Corps

John Sext Comstock, son of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Comstock of 317 Lucas Avenue, reported for duty at U. S. Marine Corps Officers' School, Quantico, Va., Monday, Sept. 14, for a three-year tour of duty.

A June graduate of St. Lawrence University, Canton, Comstock was employed with the New York State seismic crew. He is engaged to Miss Sue Aiken of Buffalo, also a June graduate of St. Lawrence.

Disgusted Bachelor

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Harold Clarke, a 63-year-old bachelor, is advertising his distaste for the human race with a large sign on his front lawn.

"I'm disgusted with people... have been for years," he says. Clarke, who lives alone, says he had often been annoyed by neighborhood children.

A few days ago, he caught a young boy retrieving a ball from his front porch. That's when he spent $15.20 to have the sign painted. It says:

"To whom it may concern, if your children's annoying behavior continues and causes me to have a fatal heart attack, will you consider yourself morally guilty of manslaughter?" Harold Clark.

Everybody seems to be against Harold. Even the signpainter misspelled his name.

Pleased With Fast Service

Nicola Morgese, Sr., of 202 Park, N. Y., "Pleased with fast Allstate service. Adjuster took care of the damage right away."

Fast help and fair treatment like this explains why Allstate insures more New York cars than any other company. Friendly help from Allstate is always as near as the nearest phone. Claims often settled right "on-the-spot"—with no home office red tape. Allstate Insurance Companies, Skokie, Illinois.

Variety Is the Spice of French Fashions

Variety is the keynote of the current Paris collections. There has been no "revolution" this time around. Designers have issued no edict that says women must totally rearrange their figures. Rather, the silhouette is a soft and supple one with wider shoulders, rounded hiplines and both rounded and slim skirts. There are lots of huge collars but there are many collarless coats and suits, too. Long jacket suits are important and cocktail dresses get a new emphasis in slender silhouette. Many evening dresses show high neckline in front, plunging V at back. There's no "trend" this year but something for everybody.

This graceful evening dress, designed by Yves Saint Laurent, employs Dior's favorite red to dramatic effect. The strapless top has fan-shaped treatment across the bosom, tapers to a tiny waistline encircled by a narrow self-belt. The flattering fullness of the skirt barely shows the instep. The fabric, a crisp moire of Orlon acrylic fiber blended with acetate, has the newly important stiffness. Typically young-looking are Guy Larouche's dress and jacket, above, made up in a tight blue tweed of Orlon acrylic fiber and mohair. The dress has a short-sleeved bodice with plain round neck and a fold at the hem where it joins the box-pleated skirt just below the waist. This gives a mock two-piece effect. The boxy, hipbone-length jacket, with its swinging back, has vented sides trimmed with two large buttons, and bracelet-length sleeves. The front button closing is concealed. The skirt billows out from a stiffened bell-shaped underskirt. The costume is worn with a white fur cap tipped over the brow.

Holds Seminar

M. C. STARKMAN

Michael C. Starkman, Kingston advertising man, is for the third year included among a group of business experts in various fields who will hold seminars in this Fall's Small Business Management Course program in several Mid-Hudson Valley cities, the New York State Department of Commerce announced today.

The communities planning courses this year are Newburgh, Nyack, Middletown, Poughkeepsie, Elmira, Canandaigua, Niagara Falls, Herkimer and Oneonta.

Starkman, president of Valley Advertising Agency, Inc. of this city will conduct a class in "Advertising and Public Relations" in Middletown October 1 and Newburgh October 20.

40 & 8 TB Party

Scheduled Thursday 381, 40 & 8, will hold its annual party Thursday afternoon for patients at the Ulster County TB Hospital.

The party will begin at 3:30 p. m. Music will be furnished through the courtesy of the local Musicians Union.

Chief de Gare Edgar Ward has requested that all vagrants try to arrive at 2 p. m. at the hospital to assist Chairman Milton Tsitsera with preparations.

Town Supervisor To Be Honored at Rosendale Dinner

George Mollenhauer, who will be honored guest at the annual dinner-dance sponsored by the Democratic Club of the Town of Rosendale, Sept. 26 at Spindler's, has served the town of Rosendale as supervisor for two successive terms.

Achievements and efforts in this connection include both emergency and permanent flood control, on which effort is still being expended. He initiated the drawing up of a code of requirements for construction of roads in new housing developments which would make them acceptable for town maintenance. As a result of his recommendations to the town board, an interim census was taken in the town in the spring of 1957 at a cost of $900. Census results showed an increase of 742, giving the town of Rosendale an additional $2,634.10 in State per capita assistance.

Through his support and assistance a speed zone was procured for the hamlet of Tillson, and "no parking" areas set up for the fire companies. Other improvements in the county during his administration include road intersection lights for the promotion of highway safety, and his persistent effort for three years secured inclusion in county highway department plans for rebuilding and reconstruction of the High Falls Coxingkill bridge.

In addition to his civic responsibilities he is a partner in the firm of Mollenhauer Bros., producers and distributors of milk and dairy products in the town of Rosendale and its environs. He has been master of Rosendale Grange 1501 for seven years, and master of Ulster Pomona Grange for six consecutive years. On Sept. 21 he will be commissioned as Ulster County deputy of New York State Grange at the annual deputy's school at Ithaca.

He is a charter member of the Rosendale Library Association, and chairman of the board of trustees for the Rosendale Library. He served four years as dairy project leader of the Tillson 4-H Club, and is still actively participating in 4-H work in the county.

He is an elder of the Rosendale Reformed Church, and represents the church in the Classis of Ulster where he serves as a member of the youth committee. He holds a BS degree in civil engineering from Syracuse University, and was employed by the New York State Department of Public Works in the Syracuse district before joining his brothers in dairy farming. He is a member of Sigma chapter, Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained from Mrs. Catherine O'Leary or any member of the committee.

Higher GE Bid Is Accepted for Dam Generators

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Electric Co., underbid by an English firm, has received authority to proceed with construction of four turbine generators, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton (D-NY) says.

Stratton said Monday Comptroller General Joseph Campbell had upheld GE's right to perform the contract to provide the generators for a dam project in Barkley, Ky.

The English Electric Export and Trading Co., which underbid GE by about $68,000, had protested Army Engineers' acceptance of the GE bid.

In declining the English bid, Army Engineers said it was not up to specifications.

Campbell told Stratton his study led him to conclude that the English firm had no ground for complaint.

"This is good news," Stratton said. "The work will be welcome."

Stratton said the project is part of the systems evaluation for FAA.

Sharon Menard of Woodstock, secretary-treasurer, may be contacted for information or reservations.

Israel Bond Group To Hear Speaker Here on Thursday

DR. JAMES G. HELLER

An internationally known educator and religious leader, Dr. James G. Heller, will speak Thursday, 8:15 p. m., at a gathering of the State of Israel Bond Committee of Kingston at the home of Joseph E. Honig, co-chairman of the bond drive, 430 Pearl Street. Joseph Levine is co-chairman of the drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Honig recently returned from an extensive tour of the State of Israel where they met the outstanding officials of the government and were able to see firsthand the great progress being made for the development of the country and in the absorption of new immigrants.

Dr. Heller has been in Israel nine times and just returned after meeting with top officials of the government and discussing problems related to the development of Israel's economy.

He was formerly national chairman of the United Jewish Appeal and vice president of the Zionist Organization of America. He is a member of the executive board of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations and, for years, served as a member of the Board of Education of his home city, Cincinnati, Ohio. Dr. Heller is also well-known as a composer of orchestral and chamber music. He has a doctor of music degree from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, is a graduate of Tulane University and a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Honig pointed out that Israel Bonds provide investment capital for Israel's historic program of economic development. Israel Bonds pay 4 per cent interest and the purchaser may borrow up to 75 per cent on his bond. Israel Bonds also act as life insurance in that the bond investment, plus interest, is returned on request upon the death of the bond holder.

Honig and Alfred D. Ronder, general chairman of the Kingston Israel Bond Campaign, urge those invited to make every effort to be present, "for the sake of Israel."

A film will also be shown about the development of the Negev Desert, called, "The Wilderness of Zin."

Privately Owned

The Pacific shoreline of the United States roams 1,700 miles from Mexico to Canada. The National Park Service reports that 1,448 miles of this shoreline are privately owned.

40 PC of Pupils Kept Home Over Transfer System

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 40 per cent of the white pupils in five Queens schools stayed home Monday as mothers demonstrated against what amounted to the schools' first racial integration.

But the 300-odd children from Brooklyn whose transfer caused the protest—a majority of them Negroes and Puerto Ricans—came and went and spent their first school day without any real trouble.

The boycott by some 970 white children seemed likely to be a one-day affair, with most of the absentees in classes today.

The Board of Education and the protesting parents say racial integration is not the issue. Some schools are virtually segregated in the city, but only because of housing patterns.

The board says it moved the children from schools in the slum area of Bedford-Stuyvesant in Brooklyn because the Brooklyn schools were overcrowded.

Most demonstrators against the transfer agreed that it was not the fact that the children were mainly Negro or Puerto Rican that bothered them, but the mass movement from poorer—and admittedly tougher—neighborhoods, across borough lines into the quiet Queens communities of Ridgewood and Glendale.

At one school officials had to paint out signs that had been scrawled on the building and playground during the night.

The signs, erased before the children showed up, read: "Blacks Go Home."

Signs carried by picketing mothers outside the schools were more temperate.

They read "Stop Transplanting Neighborhoods," "Our Vote Counts, Too," and "We Don't Oppose True Integration."

One of the tensest moments came when buses were slow arriving at one school to pick up the Brooklyn children and take them home.

A crowd of teen-agers swelled the ranks of the picketing mothers to about 50 persons, who suddenly became silent as 59 children, none over 11 years old, came out of the school and entered the buses.

The Negro children clung to each other but there were no tears and some even smiled at the spectators.

"Aw, what a shame, such little kids," said a woman holding two of her own by the hand. "All this fuss over 10-year-old kids."

Deaths

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Gould, 88, last surviving son of financier Jay Gould, died Monday after a long illness. Gould, who had inherited great wealth, lived and entertained lavishly.

CHICAGO (AP)—John R. Palandach, 85, former publisher of three foreign language newspapers circulating in the United States, died Monday.

LANDGROVE, VI. (AP)—William Stanier, 75, author and authority on power engineering, died Monday after a heart attack. He developed a belting standardization used in the automotive industry, paper and cotton mills.

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Clinton Mozley Washburn, 63, who gave some 250 couples free honeymoons to publicize an island he bought and called "Honeymoon Isle," died Monday. He bought the Gulf Coast island, then called "Hog Island," in 1939 for $25,000 and sold it in 1956 for $600,000.

Miss Maurer, a 1959 graduate of Academy of St. Ursula, plans to major in elementary education at St. Rose.

MRS. BARTALO JOHN BERINATO JR.

Malvina E. Sprague Weds Bartalo Berinato In Double Ring Ceremony at St. Joseph's Exchanging nuptial vows on Sunday, Sept. 6 at St. Joseph's Church were Miss Malvina Elizabeth Sprague, daughter of Mrs. Anna Sprague, 44 Hurley Avenue, and Bartalo John Berinato Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bartalo John Berinato Sr., of 10 Webster Street, this city.

The Rev. William E. Williams officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist and Robert Gallo, soloist.

Vases of white gladioli decorated the church for the occasion. The bride was given in marriage by Ronald William Sprague, her brother. She wore a white gown of imported French lace and nylon tulle the bodice of which was all lace with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves which ended in points over the wrists. Her bouffant skirt of nylon tulle with an overskirt of the same lace, featured an open coat effect in front. A fingertip veil of French silk illusion was gathered to a queen's crown. She carried a white orchid on a prayer book.

Mrs. Francis Fiore, the bride's cousin, was the honor attendant. She wore a floor length gown of royal blue taffeta styled with a scoop neckline and small cap sleeves. The gown was styled along princess lines. A small cap held a flirtation veil. She carried white poms in cascade style with a royal blue ribbon.

Also attending the bride were Mrs. Burton Dietz, Mrs. Irving

O'Neill - Stewart Wedding Announced

Miss Barbara Ann O'Neill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. O'Neill of Merrick, New York, was married to Dean Allen Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stewart of New Paltz on August 22, in the Community Presbyterian Church of Merrick. The Rev. Dr. Lee Vaughn Baker officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of tulle and lace. Her crown was fashioned of white tulle and pearls with a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis on a Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Janet S. Porter of Merrick and junior bridesmaids, the Misses Carol Ann and Jean Ellen Hunt of Massapequa, wore gowns of white organdy with green embroidery and matching crowns of green leaves. They carried cascades of yellow gladioli.

Stanley B. Stewart served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Norman Stewart of Liberty, cousin of the bridegroom and Arnold Anderson of Modena.

Mother of the bride wore a dress of yellow lawn with green accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of pale green with beige accessories.

The reception was held at the Hunt home in Massapequa.

Mrs. Stewart is a graduate of W. C. Mepham High School and will begin her senior year at State University of Education at New Paltz this month.

Mr. Stewart was graduated from Orange County Community College and is employed by IBM, Kingston.

Upon their return from a Canadian honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will reside in New Paltz.

Dear Mrs. Post: When seated in a restaurant, may I ask someone at a nearby table to put out his cigarette which is just left burning in the ash tray and the smoke is blowing directly in my face?

Answer: Rather than ask that the cigarette be put out, it would be much more polite and proper for you to say, "Would you mind moving that ash tray to the other side of your table? I am sorry to have to ask but the smoke is blowing right into my face."

Tip for Messengers

Dear Mrs. Post: Do you think it necessary to tip a messenger who delivers a telegram? And does your same answer apply to a messenger one orders to deliver a package?

Answer: In the country when a boy brings a telegram to one who lives quite a distance, most people give him a small tip. In the city, few, if any, people tip a messenger who brings a telegram or a package. But when sending a note or package by messenger, it is customary to give him a tip in addition to the amount of the charge which he collects for the telegraph company.

Phonograph Music at Wedding Reception

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married shortly in church and we plan on having a reception after the ceremony at the American Legion Hall here in town. We are trying to keep the cost of the wedding down as much as possible. A relative of mine has a marvelous hi-fi and a large collection of records which she says I can borrow. Would it be proper to have this type of music at the reception instead of hiring an orchestra?

Answer: The music you describe from a fine hi-fi phonograph will be proper at your reception.

Tippling in a Beauty Salon

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what is considered a proper tip to give an operator in a beauty salon for hair styling and a permanent wave? Also for a shampoo and set?

Answer: Give between ten and fifteen per cent of your bill.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have leaflet E-17, entitled, "Introductions," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Hadassah Opens St. Louis Meeting

The lower New York State region of Hadassah is participating in the 45th annual national convention of Hadassah at St. Louis, Mo., which opened Sunday according to Mrs. Michael Gratz, convention chairman.

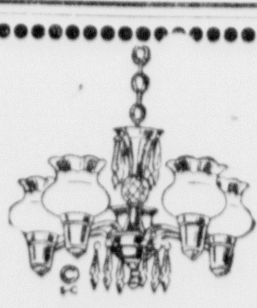

Former President Harry S. Truman, and Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meir, were the principal speakers at the opening plenary session on Sunday evening, September 13, at the Kiel Auditorium. The convention banquet will be addressed by the Honorable Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; and Leon H. Keyserling, former chairman of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisors.

The four-day Hadassah convention will formulate Hadassah's program for the United States and Israel for the next twelve months. More than 2,500 delegates and guests, representing Hadassah's 318,000 members in 1,288 chapters and groups in 49 states and Puerto Rico — are expected to attend the convention, which will be geared to the theme: "Meeting the Challenge." High on the agenda will be a discussion of United States foreign policy and international affairs, with special emphasis on latest developments in the Middle East.

The largest Zionist organization in the world today, Hadassah spends $9 million a year on its undertakings. In Israel, Hadassah conducts a comprehensive health, education and social welfare program, which includes a hospital network of diagnostic, curative and preventive medical services, health stations, rehabilitation of underprivileged children and youth, vocational education and land redemption programs. In the United States, Hadassah conducts an intensive American Affairs program through which Hadassah members are kept informed on vital domestic issues and on international developments affecting the struggle for freedom and democracy.

LWV Will Sponsor Coffee Hour Here For New Members

The Provisional League of Women Voters of Kingston will hold a coffee hour for prospective members Thursday, Sept. 24.

The informal gathering is set for 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Andrew Edelman, Rolling Meadows. The program of the organization will be explained, and activities of the local group outlined.

Anyone interested in attending one of a series of such meetings now being arranged is urged to contact Mrs. Reid A. Hassler, Hurley membership chairman.

The LWV is a non-partisan organization, aimed at promoting political responsibility through the active and informed participation of citizens in their government. League members study selected governmental issues and meet to discuss program items in small unit groups. All women of voting age are eligible for membership.

Now on the program of the local Provisional LWV is a study of the state court system and an evaluation of U. S. Foreign policy. As a provisional League, the group is also working on a survey of local government, to be published within the year.

An important facet of League work is a Voter's Service, disseminating objective, explanatory information about registration, election, and issues involved. The local group plans to publish fact sheets before the fall elections.

MARBLETOWN COLONIAL FAIR — Elizabeth Cole, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cole is shown in the costume she will wear at the Colonial Fair to be held on the Stone Ridge Library grounds Saturday 1 to 5 p. m. The staircase she is descending, in the Cole house in Marbletown, is considered one of the most perfect 18th century examples in New York State. The fair will feature musical selections by the Stone Ridge Methodist Church choir under the direction of Mrs. Arnold O. Jacobson; dances by the Marbletown School children under the direction of Charles F. Ayasse, and a skit depicting historic incidents in the village at 2 p. m. Booths with fancy articles, refreshments and other sale items will be available. The Stone Ridge Library will hold a silver tea from 2 to 6 p. m. The event is sponsored by the Stone Ridge Grange with all community organizations participating. (Freeman photo)

Silver Tea Will Be Held at Stone Ridge Library on Saturday

In conjunction with the Hudson-Champlain pageant Saturday, the board of trustees of the Stone Ridge Library will hold a silver tea commemorating its 50 years of service to the community at the library from 2 to 6 p. m.

Tea will be served in the charming old stone house built in 1770 by Edward Lounsberry and retained by the Lounsberry family until 1859. It has been used as a public library since 1909 when it was presented to the library association by Julia Hasbrouck Dwight in memory of her parents.

Matilda Cantine Van Winkle was the founder of the Stone Ridge Library and its first librarian. The historic building was recently redecorated under the direction of Mrs. Sherman V. Hasbrouck and a new heating system was installed. Additional shelves now provide for more than 6,000 books.

The affair is open to the public.

Parents Merge Two Clubs at Meeting Held September 10

On Thursday, Sept. 10, a special meeting was held for all interested parents from the former East Kingston School District and Emma Wygant School District at the Emma Wygant auditorium. All those present were unanimous in the plan to merge due to consolidation as both schools belong to Attendance Area 4, with Edward Crosby, principal.

Elections were held and the following slate of officers will serve for the coming school year: president, Mrs. Joseph Claus; vice president, Mrs. Julius Chick Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Douglas Durling; secretary, Mrs. T. Dominick Claus.

Meetings will be held the second Wednesday of the month, alternately at the East Kingston and Emma Wygant Schools. The following committee was appointed to serve on the By-Laws Committee: Mrs. Joan Watzica, Mrs. Thomas McCullough, Mrs. Ralph Nardi and Miss Evelyn Hunter.

The next meeting will be held at the East Kingston School on Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 8 p. m., and all parents from the area are cordially invited to attend.

Marlboro Faculty Member Weds New Paltz Girl; Bride Wears Gown of Lace and Tulle

NEW PALTZ — St. Joseph's Church was the scene recently of the marriage of Miss Ann Helen Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh, 50 North Chestnut Street to George La France, son of Mr. and Mrs. George La France, Holbrook, L. I.

The 3:30 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph W. Hickey, assistant pastor of the church. The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in white Belgium lace and nylon tulle over satin. It was fashioned with a lace bodice and Sabrina neckline embroidered with pearls and sequins, short sleeves and lace mitts. The bouffant skirt of lace with side panels of alternating lace and tulle ruffles ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of white silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses interspersed with miniature pink roses.

Miss Kathleen Walsh attended her sister as maid of honor and the Misses Nancy Lorenzen and Doris Hunter, also, of New Paltz, were the bridesmaids. The honor attendant was gown in lace chiffon empire style, while the others wore Nile green chiffon. Styled alike, the gowns had draped bodices, scoop necklines,

Hadassah Welcomes Its New Members At Social Monday

Eighteen local women were guests of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah at a party for prospective members Monday evening, Sept. 14, in the home of Mrs. Murray J. Fletcher, Ringtop Road.

Mrs. Nathaniel B. Gross, chairman for new members, was in charge of the evening's program. She outlined the organization's activities, while Mrs. George E. Starkman, a past president, described the vast medical program carried on by Hadassah in Israel.

Guests of honor included the Mmes. Martin Beckerman, Morton Cohen, Helen Dimenstein, Albert Feldman, William Kahn, Rodney Kaplan, Irving Kaplan, David Kotler, Robert Orseck, Herbert Rozansky, Philip Rosdal, Ira Reiss, Elwin Rose, Lauren Satinsky, Saul Schechter, Stanley Simon, Walter Tuckman, and Kurt Wolf.

Mrs. Paul Mezer was in charge of arrangements for the party, while Mrs. Sherman Kent was the hostess. On the committee were the Mmes. Larry Hunter, Walter Suskind, Richard Naigles, Walter Meyer, Robert A. Ronder, Martin Kantor, Jerome Sturgatz and Arnold Finis. Mrs. Robert S. Yallum is vice-president in charge of membership.

Hadassah opens fall activities with a paid-up membership meeting Monday, Sept. 21, at 8:30 p. m. in Temple Emanuel, Albany Avenue. The program will feature a fashion show of styles from Leventhal's, arranged by Mrs. Reuben Leventhal, with Mrs. Melvin Navy as narrator.

Mrs. Harry Kaplan is chairman for the evening, aided by Mrs. Sidney D. Wolf and Mrs. Edwin L. Wetterhahn. Mrs. Arthur H. London is vice-president in charge of program. New members will be welcomed in a special ceremony, and Mrs. Jay Melton, president, will report on the national Hadassah convention now in session in St. Louis, Mo.

Hadassah workers canvassed the city Sunday morning in a membership re-enrollment drive, with Mrs. Murray J. Fletcher as chairman. Mrs. Carl Fauter, 207 Pearl Street, was hostess for a breakfast preceding the campaign.

American Girl Glad To Be Home After Russian Exhibition

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor "I never really appreciated America until I went to Russia," says Barbara Higbee, of New York, just back from a seven-week stint at the American Exhibition in Moscow.

"Just the day before I left I had time to stop in and see the Circarama in our exhibit—you know, that wonderful full-circle movie showing typical American scenes—and all of a sudden I felt I couldn't wait to get back home."

Barbara demonstrated sewing machines in the home-sewing booth at the fair, and she says the Russians were fascinated by both the machines and American fashions.

"Even when the booth was empty, they were crowded 10 deep around it," she said, "just looking. Most Russian women make their own clothes, but they do not have the variety of either patterns or fabrics we have here. Fabrics are very expensive—an average of $6 a yard for rayons."

Barbara and the other girls in her group lived at the Ukraina Hotel, one of Moscow's newest and most modern, corresponding somewhat to New York's Waldorf. "From the outside it looked like a palace," Barbara said. "But inside it ran pretty much to red plush and early Grand Rapids type furniture. The bathrooms were about 1910 models, by American standards."

"Getting food in the dining room was a real adventure. The first week I nearly starved because I hadn't got onto the system. Then we discovered that you had to shop around for a waiter before you sat down and make a deal with him to serve you. Free tickets to the exhibit helped a lot. But still you had to figure it would take about three hours to get dinner. And if you were lucky you could get lunch in an hour and a half."

PATRICIA A. STOCK

One of the many students entering college this fall will be Patricia A. Stock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Stock of 11 Third Avenue. She joins the freshman class at the State University College of Education at New Paltz.

Miss Stock, a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1959, will study science.

Democratic Women Plan Important Meet For This Wednesday

The Ulster County Democratic Women's Division will hold its first regular meeting on Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Democratic Headquarters, Main Street, Rosendale.

The business of the meeting will include an explanation and discussion of the purpose of this organization, and the adoption of a constitution and by-laws. Plans for the School for Democratic Inspectors of Election to be held in Kingston on September 29 will be discussed.

Democratic women with Mrs. Catherine O'Leary, and vice-president of the Women's Division, in charge, will be hostesses for the meeting.

The Democratic candidates for county-wide office will speak at the meeting and meet informally with the women during the social hour.

"All Democratic women of Ulster County are welcome at the meeting," said Mrs. Harriet Allen Kerr, president. "The meeting will be the start of the important fall campaign ahead and we are preparing to tell every voter in Ulster County the true story of the Republican administration in our county. Women always demand facts. We have them."

service—Mrs. Howard Stauble; finance—Mrs. Shirley Dansman; cheer—Mrs. Patrick Busaro.

A variety of interesting programs have been planned for the new season and all members are urged to attend.

Meetings of the group are held the first and third Thursdays of the month at 8 p. m. at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

The YWCA is a Red Feather Agency.

Claude Montoux Is New Philharmonic Head; Couple to Observe 35th Anniversary

The Dutchess County Philharmonic Society yesterday officially opened its subscription campaign for the 1959-60 season with a press party at Vassar Alumnae House, Poughkeepsie. Representatives of area newspapers and radio stations were invited by the Board of Directors to meet Claude Montoux, the new musical director of the orchestra. The campaign will continue through September 25.

In addition to the three regular subscription concerts, the Society is offering a gala bonus concert to those subscribers whose orders are received by September 25. This concert will be given Sunday evening, Oct. 4. Claude Montoux will appear in the dual role of conductor and flute soloist.

Mr. Montoux has appeared as soloist with many orchestras, among them the Columbus and Tucson Symphonies, and summers at Lewisohn Stadium in New York City, under numerous conductors, including his father, Pierre Montoux. He has also played in several recitals in New York City. Mr. Montoux will be heard in the Mozart Flute Concerto in D Major.

The first concert of the series will be Wednesday, Nov. 4 and will feature "The Messiah," Mixed Chorus in "The Messiah," with Henry Bloch as guest conductor. The soloists are being chosen from the chorus, which is being rehearsed by its director, Albert G. Hunter Jr.

Mr. Montoux will conduct the two remaining concerts of the series, both on Sunday evenings, which is an innovation this season. On January 31 Beverly Somach, violinist, returns by popular request.

Miss Somach will perform the Vieuxtemps Concerto No. 4. In the two years since she appeared here, Miss Somach has made an extensive European tour, and last year was awarded a scholarship to study with Jascha Heifetz in his master class at UCLA. She was one of five pupils at that time.

On March 27, Seymour Fink, pianist, will be soloist in the Liszt Concerto No. 1 with the orchestra. Mr. Fink, who is the winner of the Society's Young People's Auditions this year, is also assistant professor of music and teacher of piano at Vassar College.

Philharmonic Headquarters are open at Main and Academy Streets, Poughkeepsie, where displays pertaining to the history of the orchestra may be seen and further information concerning the concert series may be obtained. A brochure outlining the activities for the season is also available. The Society hopes that the October 4 Bonus Concert will be a gala opening of the concert season in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Freeman Sports Editor

Jake Chichelsky's first bowling communicative of the season indicated that Kingston Bowling Association team membership will soar over the 500 mark.

This is in keeping with the steady and phenomenal growth of tenpin interest in Kingston and the area. Ferraro's Bowlatorium and Sangi's Bowlery have increased their facilities and it looks like a banner 1959-60 season.

The only disturbing note of the early season appears to be the lack of sponsors. Never have we seen so many unsponsored teams so early in a bowling season.

The reasons may be deep rooted, but we sincerely hope for the sake of the bowlers that the situation improves within the next month. Without sponsorships, bowling would find itself in a bad way. On the other hand, we have warned for years that too many teams were too indifferent to their sponsors. Some team captains care so little about their sponsors they find it a monumental effort to write out the full trade name on the official score sheets.

Bowling needs sponsors. It's the backbone of organized bowling. A good sponsor is something to be cherished. If you have a good sponsor, conduct yourself in a manner that will perpetuate your relationship.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Terry Becket, one of the starlets of local bowling, has agreed to furnish us with pertinent information about the disaffiliated bowlers periodically throughout the season. She will also serve as publicity director of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association and staff correspondent for the Woman Bowler, official publication of the Women's International Bowling Congress. She joins Jake Chichelsky as local alley correspondents, thereby assuring a steady flow of interesting items for bowling fans. Chichelsky says the fellow to watch this season is Fred Weber, an IBM employee whom Jake rates up with Walter Cuchies, the metropolitan district hotshot who is No. 6 man with Jones Dairy in the Hudson Valley League. Other Chichelsky observations: Ed Thomas is making a comeback after a layoff of several years. He looks in pretty good shape and should have a fine season. How about that John Raible, oldest active bowler in the city at 80, rolling a 567 in the Electric League? Sterling Studios may surprise a lot of people in the HVBL with such worthies as Dick Howard, Jack Houghtaling, Bill Lawrence, Bob Sleightner and Fred DiBella on the roster. DiBella has seriously curtailed his bowling activities for 1959-60....from six leagues to five league's! Mammie's Barber Shop League figures to be stronger with Central Hudson and Kingston Knitting Mills in the fold.

Nation's Bowling Capital:

Twenty years ago, the nation's bowling capital was Milwaukee. Then it moved to Detroit, but on the basis of selections for 1958-59 All Star squad it has to be St. Louis. And the eastern sector of the country fared poorly with only Lou Campi, the wrong foot star from Dumont, N. J., earning recognition on either team. St. Louis placed four men on the first squad and three on the second, for a total of seven out of a possible 10, plus three honorable mentions. Campi was selected for the second team. Ed Lubanski, the lone Detroit representative to go with four Mound City choices on the first team, was named Bowler of the Year. Al (Lindy) Farragall of New Jersey was the only other Eastern representative.

The all star selection follows:

FIRST TEAM
Ed Lubanski, Detroit
Don Carter, St. Louis
Ray Bluth, St. Louis
Billy Webb, St. Louis
Tom Hennessey, St. Louis

SECOND TEAM
Dick Weber, St. Louis
Lou Campi, Dumont, N. J.
Buzz Fazio, St. Louis
Harry Smith, St. Louis
Joe Joseph, Detroit

Popfinger Wins Race At Monticello Track

William Popfinger broke into the win column at Monticello Raceway last night, scoring in a photo over Fleta in the feature. He reined Butler's Comet to a 2-10 win in the Newburgh PRA trot, staying behind Fleta most of the last half mile and then moving away from the pole to pass the Arden Homestead four year old 25 yards from the wire. The winner paid $16.10 and snapped a slump for Popfinger, who had gone several days without a winner.

FIRST RACE, Class D Mile Trot, $600: Tigrem (Wilson) 6.40, 3.90, 3.00; Frenesi (Miller) 5.10, 3.70; Breeze Me (Finney) 8.20. Also started — Daredevil, Little Jean, Victory Flower, Tilly's Arch, Sherwood Lass. Time 2:12.1.

Team to Open Season Saturday Against Pawling

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Onteora High School, which won the UCAI Football title in 1957 and tied with New Paltz for honors last season, does not figure to repeat this time around.

Coach Tom Wheeler, who has inherited the grid duties from athletic director Eddie Witko, will have to operate with a team made up of last year's junior varsity squad that won four of five games.

The four ace backfield stars of the '58 club—Bruce Wieder-spiel, Tom McCrossen, Bob Shulman and Dave Janick, have graduated. Four regular linemen—Evan Eignor, Tom Casimir, Harry Krein and Pete Tosi, are also gone. Sub quarterback Terry Grant will not be around this year.

Those starters from last season who have reported this year are tackle Harry Roberts, guard Lucas Stoutenburg and halfback Len Muhlich. The rest of the boys are green, at least in football experience, except for seniors Pete Heller, Herb Bundy and George Thompson. They all saw action last year. Another senior, Ronnie Wendt, did not play his junior term in school.

Start Saturday

The Indians open their season Saturday at home against Pawling. Coach Wheeler said he was impressed by the results of a scrimmage Saturday and feels the boys need only game experience to produce some good results.

He listed his tentative club for Saturday as Dick Bartsch at quarterback, John Caruso and Joe DiGiovanni at halfback and Larry Dutcher at fullback.

Gives Walkall the Nod
Coach Wheeler feels Walkall will be the team to beat this season in the circuit and gives Marlboro a good chance. New Paltz also figures in the picture. The Indians figure to be a year away but they might come along later in the season with a few contests under their belt.

Ono Monachino, a newcomer to Onteora, will be the line coach this season and Andy Shekitta will take charge of the jayvees.

The schedule:

| Date | Opponent | Where |
|-------------------------------------|----------|-------|
| Sept. 19—Pawling | Home | |
| Sept. 26—Cornwall | Home | |
| Oct. 3—Marlboro | Home | |

Machen Favored In TV Battle

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Heavyweight Eddie Machen has not improved appreciably since being knocked out by Ingemar Johansson, says Willie Besmanoff, who fights Machen here Wednesday night.

"He has fought five fights since losing to Johansson, and in the fights he didn't improve," said Besmanoff. "Every fighter feels a knockout."

The unranked Besmanoff appeared rather confident of his chances against Machen, ranked No. 4 by both Ring magazine and the National Boxing Assn., in their televised bout (ABC, 10 p. m. EDT).

Buffalo to Have Tough Grid Slate

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The University of Buffalo has announced a 1960 football schedule that will be the most ambitious in its history.

The nine-game schedule, announced Monday, includes home games against newcomers Virginia Military Institute, Colgate, Connecticut and Boston University. They will replace Cortland, Baldwin-Wallace, Rhode Island and Marshall on this year's football calendar.

Last season, the Bulls won the Lambert Cup as the top small college football team in the East.

Rebuilding its athletic program, the university won eight of nine games last year and a large segment of that team has returned this season.

A reportedly impressive drop of freshmen players will take on Syracuse, Colgate and Cornell this season.

Claims Trophy Mayor's Squad Beats KPA Nine Again, 4-2

Flushed with success after scoring a 4-2 victory over the Kingston Police Softball team, Mayor Edwin F. Radel of the Mayor's Marauders, has sent a letter to Kingston Manager John Crespinio claiming the loving cup trophy which the local cops won as the best team in the Hudson Valley Police League.

The Marauders won a 4-2 decision over the KPA Sunday morning at Dietz Stadium as Joe Amato checked the losers with his good hurling. Mayor Radel drove in two runs as his club beat the crime fighters for the second straight time this season.

"I must inform you that it is the consensus of opinion of the Mayor's Marauders, your Manager Frank Koenig, and myself, that we are entitled to at least partial, if not total possession of this trophy so that it may grace the Mayor's office as an emblem of our superiority over the 'champs,'" the Mayor wrote.

There was no comment from police headquarters.

YM Basketball Meeting Called

Managers representing prospective basketball teams in the YMCA fall basketball league have been invited to a meeting at the YMCA Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Tentative rosters of the teams must be handed in at that time. Final rosters must be handed in before the team's fourth game, according to league rules. Rosters must have a minimum of eight men and a maximum of 12.

The league opens its season Tuesday, Sept. 29, according to the YMCA's Physical Director, Dick Case.

Nicklaus Superb In Amateur

By SKIPPER PATRICK
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.

(AP) — A 190-pound 18-year-old Ohio State University junior built like an All-America football player is making his presence felt in the 59th U. S. Amateur Golf tournament.

Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, a pharmacy student, passed his initial test by taking out Robert Tyre Jones III, of Pittsfield, Mass., son of the immortal golf star Bobby Jones, 7 and 6, Monday.

Nicklaus played the mile-high, 7,010-yard par 36-35-71 Broadmoor course in two strokes under regulation figures. He missed but one of the 12 greens and was trapped only once.

Nicklaus has been one of the better amateur players this year. He won the North-South Amateur tournament and the Trans-Mississippi Amateur in the quarter-final round of the British Amateur. He was low amateur in three of the five open tournaments he has played.

Defending champion Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City came through in stride as did most of the more highly regarded players. Coe beat young Bob Meiering of Roswell, N. M., 7 and 6 in what amounted to little more than a tune-up.

Robert Allen, an automobile salesman from Pawtucket, Rhode Island, upset Walker Capper Ward Wotlauber of Williamsville, N. Y., 2 and 1.

The only genuine par round for the distance was shot by Bob Brue of Milwaukee, the low qualifier for the tournament. Brue had 37 going out, one over par, and was back in 34.

The field will be cut to 64 players after today's round.

Braves Top LA Dodgers, 4-1 Gordon Still Not Conceding

Now in Second
As Giants Bow
To Reds, 4-1

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Milwaukee Braves wanted to ask "who's choking up?" you couldn't blame them.

Remember three years ago when the Braves were accused of choking up after they had blown a four-game lead to the Dodgers in the final three weeks?

Well, things have a way of reversing themselves.

A vital 4-1 victory over the Dodgers Monday night not only boosted the Braves into undisputed possession of second place, one game behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants, but gave them their eighth victory in the last nine games.

During the same period, both the Giants and Dodgers, now in third place, two games off the pace, have played barely over 300 ball, winning five while losing four.

Cincinnati's Reds inflicted a stunning 4-1 defeat upon the Giants in the only other league game played.

Each of the top three contenders have 11 games remaining. The Braves will have a golden opportunity this weekend when they meet the last place Phillies while the Giants and Dodgers are battling each other.

It took a tremendous pitching performance by Don McMahon to preserve Milwaukee's victory. Bob Buhl, a long-time Dodger nemesis, appeared about to cement his 13th victory, fifth against Los Angeles this season, as he entered the last of the ninth, leading 4-1. He had allowed the Dodgers only one hit—a home run by Wally Moon. Then, just like that, the Dodgers loaded the bases with nobody out on a walk and two infield singles.

McMahon superbly pitched. That was the signal for manager Fred Haney to summon McMahon from the bullpen. The big strong right-hander was superb. He retired Norm Larker on a soft liner to second baseman Felix Mantilla, then threw three strikes past Gil Hodges and Johnny Roseboro. The Coliseum crowd of 33,767 could hardly believe it.

Jim Brosnan, a last minute pitching choice, and Dutch Dotterer, an early inning substitute catcher, combined to give the Reds their 4-1 victory over the Giants. Brosnan, usually a reliever, started only because Jim O'Toole, who was scheduled to pitch, turned up ailing. He gave up only five hits and a run in seven innings.

Dotterer, who entered the game in the second when starter Ed Bailey was tossed out for arguing over a decision, drove in two runs with a pair of singles. Johnny Temple drove in the first run with a home run and Whitey Lockman batted in the last one with a double. Willie Mays, with his 30th homer, accounted for the lone Giant run.

Springfield Nears Eastern Playoff Title
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The Springfield Giants, their eyes on the Eastern League Governor's Cup and a slice of top money, pull out all stops tonight against Williamsport, needing only one victory to capture the playoff finals.

The Giants, who won the pennant, defeated Williamsport and Curt Simmons, 5-2, Monday night to take a 2-1 advantage in the best-of-five series for the cup. Juan Marichal, the little Puerto Rican right-hander who had an 18-13 regular season record, gave up eight hits and struck out nine in posting the victory. He had a shutout until the eighth when a walk, a double by Gordie Figgard and singles by Moose Johnson and Tony Curry produced two Williamsport runs.

A walk, an error and a sacrifice fly gave Springfield another run in the fourth. The Giants added their final tally in the fifth.

Tribe Wallops Yankees, 8-5; Chisox Beaten

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Strange how one victory can make a man adjust his point of view.

Sunday after his Cleveland Indians had been beaten twice in Yankee Stadium and Chicago had won to boost its first-place margin to 3½ games, manager Joe Gordon greeted reporters: "Come in and join the wake."

Monday after his Indians had knocked off the Yankees 8-5 while Boston was upending the White Sox 9-3, the same man said: "I'm not ready to concede. We've still got a chance."

The chance is slim, but it's there. Take a look.

Chicago has nine games left to play to Cleveland's 10. If the White Sox win six, it's all over, even if the Indians win all theirs. In other words, any combination of six will lift the White Sox to their first pennant in 40 years.

But here's the rub. All of Chicago's nine remaining games are against first division clubs—two against New York, six against Detroit and one against Cleveland. On the other hand, only one of the Indians' remaining 10 games are against a first division club. The Indians have seven against Kansas City and two against Boston.

In other American League games Washington blanked Detroit 5-0 and Baltimore whipped Kansas City 9-4.

Donovan Belting
Dick Donovan, seeking for the third time to post his 10th victory, carried a 2-0 lead into the sixth when the roof caved in. Before the Red Sox were through, 12 batters had gone to the plate and collected four hits, five walks and six runs off four Chicago pitchers.

Frank Malzone hit a two-run single. Ted Williams singled in a run as a pinch hitter and Gene Stephens also singled in a run. That was enough for Bill Monbouquette to register his seventh victory in a route-going job.

Cal McLish beat the Yankees for the sixth time this season. The big right-hander had a shutout until the ninth when the Yankees pounded five runs across. It was too late by then because McLish himself had driven in three Cleveland runs with a triple and single, and rookie Ray Webster had knocked in three mates with a double and two singles.

Jim Lemon, on a hot streak, cracked his 32nd home run for Washington, four in the last five games, as Truman Cleveland, normally a relief pitcher, stopped the Tigers with four hits.

Bob Nieman walked a three-run homer as Baltimore's ruined rookie Al Grunwald's starting debut for Kansas City. Hector Brown notched his 10th success.

Colts Discover New Quarterback in Brown

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Except for their slightly-jarred pride, the National Football League champion Baltimore Colts came out of their 35-13 exhibition loss to Philadelphia a stronger club by locating an able substitute for passing wizard Johnny Unitas.

"We lost a game," said coach Weeb Ewbank Monday, "but I found a quarterback."

The find is Ray Brown, who proved invaluable as a defensive specialist in his rookie season with Baltimore last year. Brown takes over the No. 2 signal-calling berth held during the 1958 campaign by George Shaw, now with the New York Giants.

Ewbank has been trying to find a passer capable of spelling Unitas or substituting in case of injury to his all-pro quarterback. The choice had narrowed to Brown or Andy Nelson, another defenseman.

Brown, who pitched 'em for Mississippi in his college days, played the entire game Sunday, completing 16 of 33 passes for 199 yards and one touchdown. Only one of his tosses was intercepted.

Praise From Norm
Norm Van Brocklin, the Eagle quarterback who single-handedly halted the Colts' undefeated string at four games with three TD strikes, also praised the young signal-caller.

While things were beginning to fall in place for the Colts, the Giants announced they would do some experimenting at fullback due to injuries to Mel Triplett and Phil King.

Coach Jim Lee Howell will try halfback Alex Webster at the post while Triplett recuperates from badly bruised hips and King recovers from a leg injury.

New Face
The Chicago Bears will start Rudy Bukich at quarterback in the Bears' exhibition with Cleveland Saturday. Bukich has been sharing the signal-calling duties with Zeke Bratkowski and Ed Brown.

Two new faces may open the regular season for Chicago's Cardinals at the offensive slots—Ken Panfil, obtained from Los Angeles and Mac Lewis, a rookie from Iowa.

Darrel Brewster, acquired in a trade with Cleveland, reported to the Pittsburgh Steelers. He'll start at end along with Gern Nagler, obtained from the Cardinals, in Sunday's exhibition against Green Bay.

New Soccer Club Will Field Strong Team for State League

A veteran array of talent, including several players with European experience, has been recruited by the Kingston Sports Club for competition in the Central New York Soccer Football League.

A home opener for the Kingston team is slated later this month.

Experienced Personnel
The club president, Kurt Schoch, is an old hand at soccer. He was formerly president of the Soccer Division of the Sport Club of New York and also played with the team.

Tibor Horwath, the club trainer, is of Hungarian descent. He formerly played with M.T.K. of Budapest and had to flee his country during the Russian invasion of 1956. He is now employed at IBM in Kingston.

The team captain, Rune Karlson, was formerly associated with the Swedish Athletic Club in Bridgeport, Conn.

The Kingston team will be guided by a Player Committee boasting a solid background in the sport. Fritz Weber was a member of the crack Jahn in Regensburg, Germany, and Gus Horn played in Bremen, Germany.

The goalie, Ingo Froehlich, played in Dusseldorf, Germany, and the center half, Alex Bruckner, played with the Red Stars of Budapest, Hungary. The center forward, Hans Wolf, played with the junior movement, select group in Nuernberg, Germany, and the right wing, Alex Dierks, was a member of the Sport Club, Kaiserslautern, Pfalz, Germany.

The rest of the squad is made up with limited experience.

What are the duties of football officials?

The referee working behind the offensive team has general over-all control.

The umpire working behind the defending team concentrates mainly on the tackles. Most of the trouble starts in the middle of the line. The umpire watches for illegal use of the hands, etc. his principal responsibility is to keep the game clean.

The head linesman works in the neutral zone on the side of the field opposite the field judge. His main responsibility is the line of scrimmage. He marks the position and keeps track of the progress of the ball.

The field judge sort of picks up loose ends. He calls field goals and tries for points. He is responsible for the timing of the game.

The field judge has a tough time with calls in the end zone which the back judge can cover perfectly. The back judge works from 15 to 18 yards behind the umpire, leaving the field judge free to concentrate on the line of scrimmage.

Boros Winner Of Dallas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Julius Boros, who won his eighth tournament in 10 years of campaigning when he bagged the $25,000 Dallas Open, is on the way to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for a little fishing to break the monotony of the golf tour.

Some say Big Julius is about to wind up his career.

His record shows that he's toughest when the stakes are high. He has won $188,322.09, and $101,000 of it came in first place money.

Boros took top money for the second time in Dallas Monday when he won the Dallas Open by a stroke. His previous triumph here was one of the big ones he has grabbed, the Big Open in 1952.

The Hungarian from Mid Pines, N.C., had a par 70 to take the Dallas Open title. It gave him 274 for 72 holes and a stroke margin over host pro Earl Stewart, Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Bo Wanner of Odessa, Tex.

Fall Months Extend Boating and Fishing

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

NORWALK, Conn. (NEA)—We talked with an old New England cruising man who was busily loading food supplies and extra gear aboard his cabin cruiser.

"Going on a safari?" we wanted to know as we watched spinning rod and reel, shotgun, sleeping bags, small camera and tripod with long, telephoto lens, portable radio, cruising charts, extant and even some new novels each get carefully wrapped in plastic bags and stowed.

"Getting ready for the best cruising of the year," he told us, "which comes during the three months ahead. The children go away to school and my wife and I get set for our kind of boating."

"Unlike the rainy months of spring when I have to wait for a clear day to finish painting the boat, I've found that September,

MORNING MIST—Anglers rise ahead of it as they head for some of the finest fishing of the year. Boaters stretch the season to include ideal autumn days. They offer rich bonus.

October, November and some of December can provide the perfect weather for going afloat. That's true in New England. I've traveled a lot on the Great Lakes and Pacific coast and noted the same thing.

"We don't have to tow the kids water skiing. Fishing is good. We cruise along the coast during the hunting season. One of my hobbies is bird watching and the water is often so calm I can set up my camera and tripod on deck and move in close for great color pictures of migrating birds stopping off on their way south."

"Sure there are fall storms. You saw me stowing aboard 200 feet of new nylon anchor line. When we hear warnings on the radio we will head into one of the protected harbors we already have marked on our charts, put out our storm hooks and ride it out or go ashore. If it's just a day of rain, I'll read some of the books I have had a chance to get around to. "We take extra sweaters for the cool mornings, though sometimes I go for a quick swim since the water is still warmer than the air. This can cause morning fog—so we sleep late until they burn off. Nights can be so clear that this year I bought a sextant and am going to learn to navigate by shooting the stars."

"We will be anchoring in coves crowded with boats all summer but practically deserted now except for fish just waiting to be caught. The cool weather chases the bugs away."

"This is the prettiest time of year. The trees will all be changed in color and reflecting in the water. Some week-ends we'll hitch up our small runabout on the trailer and drive to some of the mountain lakes for fall fishing and color photographs of the bright red and yellow hill-sides reflecting in the water."

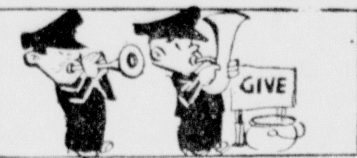

The old boatman worked with a grease pencil marking "sliced peaches, hash, corned beef, tomato juice, chicken soup" on canned goods he was storing so that if the moist air made the printed labels fall off he would still know what was in the cans.

Magistrates Will Resume Thursday

Regular meetings of the Ulster County Magistrates Association will be resumed Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Board of Supervisors room at the Ulster County Court-house, according to Harold E. Macholdt, secretary.

Final plans for the annual chicken barbecue to be held Sunday, Sept. 20 at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale, will be made. Macholdt said all reservations should be made no later than Thursday.

Macholdt said many magistrates are planning to attend the annual conference of the New York State Magistrates Association to be held Sept. 23-26 at Saranac Lake. Macholdt is a director of the state association.

Two Missile Shots Fizzle

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The countdown reached zero today on the last of the Vanguard rockets, but an attempt to launch it with a 100-pound satellite was abandoned because of undisclosed technical difficulties.

An informed source said the firing button was pressed but failed to send the necessary signal to the ignition system.

It was trouble that couldn't be fixed quickly, so the Vanguard crew decided at 2:40 a. m. to go home and try again later. There was no immediate decision on when that will be.

The satellite included a 50-pound payload and the 50-pound third stage of the rocket, which will remain attached to the satellite. Its job will be to measure the earth's magnetic field, solar X-rays and the more dangerous pockets of radiation around which man will want to detour when he flies to the moon.

Three hours after the Vanguard postponement, the powerful engine of a Jupiter intermediate range missile ignited but the big rocket failed to get off the ground. The missile was scheduled for a 1,500-mile test flight.

Trouble is no stranger to the Vanguard program. A victim of circumstances, the slim, 72-foot rocket has been plagued with technical difficulties since its beginning.

The first Vanguard was rushed to a launching stand, long before it was ready, in a frantic effort to get a satellite into orbit and save face for America after the Soviet Union launched Sputnik I. The fledgling Vanguard blew up on its pad Dec. 6, 1957.

Since that time, Vanguard rockets have launched two satellites, the so-called "grapefruit" and "basketball" moons, in nine tries.

Theft, Vandalism Solved by Police

Local police yesterday claimed solution of another garment factory merchandise theft and of destructive vandalism in a Downs Street house.

John Robert Short, 18, of Port Ewen, charged with the theft of 22 sweaters, with a wholesale value of $84 a dozen, was booked Monday afternoon on a second degree grand larceny count. Attorney Howard C. St. John appeared for him before City Judge Aaron E. Klein yesterday afternoon and the case was put over to Wednesday.

Found in Garage
It is charged that the merchandise, owned by the Barclay Knitwear Co., Inc., was taken from a warehouse at 519 Broadway, where Short had been employed. The sweaters, police said, were found stored in a garage. It is charged that the theft began about Aug. 20.

The arrest followed an investigation by Detective Albert Hutton who also reported today that damage at a house at 21 Downs Street, owned by Mary E. Logan and Anna G. Moran, was traced to a group of 11 youngsters ranging in age from 10 to 13 years old.

All Rooms Ransacked
The house, fully furnished, was entered through the breaking of a rear window. It is also believed that hoboes had entered the building nights. All rooms had been ransacked. Furniture and other items were damaged and it was indicated today that several items are missing.

Police said the arrest of Short yesterday had no apparent connection with the arrest Aug. 21 of James D. Evans, 44, of 102 Bruyn Avenue, who was charged with the theft of merchandise valued at $1,600 from Barclay Knitwear. He was held for grand jury action after a Sept. 9 hearing before City Judge Klein. His arrest followed a probe by Detectives Hutton and Charles McCullough. Theft of the merchandise, it was charged, occurred between April and Aug. 1.

Typhoon Changes Course

matter of FACT
At the start of the War Between the States, Alexander Hamilton Stephens was elected vice president of the Confederacy. In 1843, he was elected to the U.S. Congress where he remained until 1859. When his state, Georgia, left the Union, he went with it even though he did not believe in secession. After the war, Stephens was again elected to Congress. After nine years he retired to become governor of Georgia.

Light Snow Falls On Whiteface in Adirondack Mt.

WHITEFACE, N. Y. (AP)—Light snow fell on Whiteface Mountain today, on top of a two-inch blanket.

The overnight low temperature was 26 above zero, one degree above yesterday's on the 4,872-foot Adirondack peak. The high Monday was 34.

The Weather Bureau in Albany reported pre-autumn readings mostly in the 40s this morning elsewhere in the state, except for overnight lows of 61 and 50 in New York City and Buffalo, respectively.

Permit Boards To Make Policy. Educators Aver

Board of Education should make the policy to be carried out by professional administrators, according to three of the nation's top educators who addressed a group of 200 school members, superintendents and principals at the New Paltz Central School Monday night.

Speakers at last night's dinner-meeting were, Dr. Walter Crewson, associate commissioner of the State Education Department; Dr. Walter Anderson, professor of education at the New York University School of Education; and Dr. Lloyd Michaels, superintendent of Evans-Township High School, Evanston, Ill.

Two-Day Workshop
The meeting concluded the first day of a 2-day pilot workshop conference on "Implementing a Program for the Improvement of Instruction" sponsored by the Mid-Hudson School Study Council and the State Education Department in cooperation with the State University College of Education.

Dr. Anderson asked board members these questions: "Do you know first hand the program in your schools?" "Do you know what good schools are?" "Do you put your effort in policy making and leave it to the administration to enforce?" "Do you find ways to recognize good teaching?"

Dr. Michaels emphasized that board members should realize what the real job is, and he suggested two board meetings, one for business and the other for discussions of improvements.

Dr. Crewson recommended that part of the budget be spent for improvement of instruction. "I can't think of any item in a budget that will bring more equal return," he said.

Panel Discussion Set
Today the group heard a talk by Dr. Leslie Kindred, professor of educational administration at Temple University on the topic, "Pathway to Instructional Improvement."

After his talk the educators divided into four groups for further discussion on improvement of instruction.

Group sessions were scheduled to continue until 3:30 p. m. when speakers will hold a summary panel discussion.

Public Meeting Slated on X-ray Survey at Olive

Supervisor Lester S. Davis has called a public meeting Thursday 8 p. m., at the Fire Hall in Olive Bridge for citizens who volunteered to assist in the coming free chest X-ray survey and plan to canvass the township.

Every adult over 15 years of age is invited to have a free chest X-ray when the New York State Mobile visits Olive Bridge Fire House, October 8 and Boiceville, Ontario School, October 9. Hours of the X-ray program are 2 to 5 p. m. and 6 to 8 p. m.

Davis has appointed Mrs. Hazel D. Osborne, R.N., chairman for the Olive Bridge, Krumville and Samsonville area; Mrs. M. Griffin Irwin for the Shokan, Ashokan and Boiceville area, and Miss Evelyn Lang for the region in and around West Shokan.

During the meeting Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital will speak about the value of this important health program. The public health nurse of the district will talk about the follow-up program, and Miss Hazel M. Steed, executive director of the Ulster County TB and Health Association, will distribute the many items such as posters, fliers, canvass cards, which are furnished by the TB Association for these X-ray programs. Miss Steed, coordinator for the survey, will instruct the committee members and volunteers in the routine of distribution, canvassing and registration which is necessary for a smooth and successful survey.

This is an open meeting. Davis expects many volunteers will assist in the program. He invites all interested citizens to come and hear Dr. Schwartz and the others speak about this important health measure.

The resolution notes the 350th year since Henry Hudson explored the river now bearing his name under commission of the Dutch East India Company, and the 307th anniversary of the founding of Kingston by citizens of The Netherlands under the patronship of the Dutch West India Company.

It further takes cognizance of the ties that bind the area and the people of The Netherlands such as the names of people, places and streets of the city: Elmendorf, VanGaasbeek, Ten Broeck, Wiltwyck and Wynkoop.

A letter sent with the resolution to Dr. J. H. van Roijen, Netherlands Embassy in Washington, D. C., says, "Our resolution of welcome is the first ever prepared by this organization and it was done so with a sincere feeling of friendship for Her Royal Highness and the people of The Netherlands."

Beatrix Guest Of Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP)—Princess Beatrix of The Netherlands spent 20 minutes today visiting the Museum of Primitive Art as guest of Gov. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller is founder and president of the institution as well as a private collector of primitives. The princess, the governor and other officials saw an exhibition of the art of Lake Sentani, Dutch New Guinea, assembled from museums in The Netherlands, as well as from private collections and that of the Museum of Primitive Art.

"It's so nice to see you," said Rockefeller.
"It's kind of you to invite me," replied the princess.

50 Club Welcomes Princess Beatrix Through Embassy

The 50 Club has expressed a warm welcome to Princess Beatrix in a resolution which is to be delivered to Her Royal Highness through The Netherlands Embassy in Washington, D. C.

This was announced today by two officers, President Bernard Donnelly, and Alderman Frank C. Sass of the Seventh ward, who is secretary of the club.

The resolution says that, "We take this opportunity to welcome, with deep feeling of friendship and kinship, Her Highness Crown Princess Beatrix to this city of her forefathers and to this city which will in part be eternally her's."

It was adopted at a meeting of the club at its headquarters, 97 Abel Street. The organization's program is of a civic nature, mainly for the promotion of youth projects and helping the handicapped, especially those afflicted with cerebral palsy.

It was intended to present the resolution to the Princess when she visits Kingston on Friday, but this does not fit in with original arrangements for her reception made by the Kingston Committee for the Hudson-Champlain Celebration.

The resolution notes the 350th year since Henry Hudson explored the river now bearing his name under commission of the Dutch East India Company, and the 307th anniversary of the founding of Kingston by citizens of The Netherlands under the patronship of the Dutch West India Company.

It further takes cognizance of the ties that bind the area and the people of The Netherlands such as the names of people, places and streets of the city: Elmendorf, VanGaasbeek, Ten Broeck, Wiltwyck and Wynkoop.

A letter sent with the resolution to Dr. J. H. van Roijen, Netherlands Embassy in Washington, D. C., says, "Our resolution of welcome is the first ever prepared by this organization and it was done so with a sincere feeling of friendship for Her Royal Highness and the people of The Netherlands."

David McDonald, president of the union, reiterated his charge that the companies' concern about inflation is phony.

Many top steel executives, McDonald said, are also directors of some of the nation's biggest banking houses, and as such are contributing to inflation by working for higher interest rates. McDonald said the bank-steel executives "attempt to blame average wage-earners for the evils of inflation."

The industry has contended any agreement that increases wages without compensating changes in work practices to increase permanent production would be inflationary. Prestrike wages averaged $3.11 an hour.

Dutchess Rejects PPR Second Time

Proposals for permanent personal registration was rejected for a second time Monday afternoon by the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors and by a vote of 19 to 10, one member abstaining, the board accepted a committee recommendation which tabled the PPR plan for the present.

The action to reject the proposal was carried as four Republican members of the board voted to support a resolution of Supervisor Thomas D. Mahar (D) Town of Poughkeepsie.

Board Chairman Robert J. Blinn (R-Amenia) said there were shaves of information on the subject available to supervisors.

Talks Off Again In Steel Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for the struck steel industry and the United Steelworkers met for 90 minutes Monday, then recessed apparently as stalemated as ever.

As has been the case since the strike of half a million steelworkers began two months ago, the only action came in opposing statements from spokesmen for the companies and the union.

R. Conrad Cooper, city negotiator for the industry, reiterated that the steel companies are opposed to any new contract that would be inflationary.

David McDonald, president of the union, reiterated his charge that the companies' concern about inflation is phony.

Many top steel executives, McDonald said, are also directors of some of the nation's biggest banking houses, and as such are contributing to inflation by working for higher interest rates. McDonald said the bank-steel executives "attempt to blame average wage-earners for the evils of inflation."
